1,200 Attend Watson Funeral in New York

Church Is Lined With Flowers

Many at Service In Poughkeepsie

New York, June 21 (AP)—An overflow crowd of about 1,200 persons thronged Brick Presbyterian Church today for the funeral of Thomas J. Watson, chairman of the board of the International Business Machines Corp.

Watson died of a heart attack in Roosevelt Hospital Tuesday. He was 82.

AMONG THOSE present were representatives of industry, business, finance, philanthropy and the United Nations.

The 45-minute service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Paul Austin Wolfe, minister of the church, and his assistant, the Rev. Stanley Niebruegge.

During today's funeral service in New York city, memorial services were conducted at the First Presbyterian Church, corner of South Hamilton and Cannon streets, Poughkeepsie.

MANY LOCAL plant officials and employes attended this service out of respect to Mr. Watson. The Rev. Merle S. Irwin, church pastor, officiated.

The sanctuary and both side walls of the New York church were lined with flowers. The casket, completely covered by a blanket of dark red roses, rested in the middle of the chancel.

MEMBERS OF the Watson family occupied two front rows. Among these were Mrs. Watson; two sons, Thomas J. Watson Jr., IBM president and Arthur K. Watson, president of IBM World Trade Corp.; two daughters, Mrs. John N. Irwin 2d, of New York; and Mrs. Walker G. Buckner, of Bronxville, N. Y., and 15 grandchildren.

Honorary pallbearers at the funeral of Mr. Watson in New York city today included:

Willis H. Booth, IBM director; Drury W. Cooper, law firm of Cooper, Dunham, Keith and Dearborn; Edward M. Douglas, IBM director; Sherman M. Murder Trial Jury Completed

Newburgh, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—A jury was completed yesterday in the murder trial of Joseph Marsala and George Ruocco, accused of shooting and robbing prize fighter Al Frias of Fall River, Mass.

The trial of the defendants, both 26 and New Yorkers, opened eight days ago.

In his opening statement yesterday, Dist. Atty. Abraham Isseks told the jury the state would prove that Frias—hoping to buy $20,000 in counterfeit money for $6,000 in legal cash—was shot to death and robbed of the $6,000 as he drove with Ruocco and Marsala.

Frias' body was found April 21 on a lonely road in Orange county.

Through Raids and Ambushes

Rebels Inflict Heavy Casualties on French

Algiers, Algeria, June 21 (AP)—Nationalist guerrillas claimed a heavy toll on the French today through raids and ambushes launched in the wake of the execution of two rebels in Algeria today.

Twenty-five Frenchmen, military or civilians, had been killed in the 24 hours ending at noon and 29 were seriously hurt. The dead included four French Army officers.

One of the big ambushes occurred about 25 miles from Sidi Bel Abbes, the Foreign Legion's storied headquarters. A strong band of Nationalists jumped a convoy of about 100 Legionnaires and five vehicles yesterday.

The group radioed for help and legion reinforcements were sent to its rescue. The French reported 10 Legionnaires were killed and seven wounded in the early hours of the battle, which was still going on this morning. The rebel losses were put at four dead.

Another ambush in the area of Ain Chair, near the Moroccan border, was fatal to nine French enlisted men and two officers. Eleven other soldiers were wounded. The French said 15 rebels were killed there.

Two trucks carrying reinforcements to the Ain Chair area overturned this morning, killing and injuring several soldiers. It was not immediately clear whether the accident was due to rebel sabotage.

A raid last night in Algiers itself, where attackers sprayed pistol fire into cafes and bars, was fatal to four Europeans. Two died in a hospital this morning. Eleven others were wounded. Troops and police killed two of the attackers and captured two in a running street fight.

The French Army reported a group of soldiers clashed with some 30 rebels near Aumale, 50 miles southeast of Algiers, and killed two of them. Planes and artillery also went into the same area, inflicting what were described as heavy losses on rebels hidden in the mountains.

Still Mr. Republican

Dewey Influence Held Strong Over State GOP

By CHARLES DUMAS

Albany, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Make no mistake about it. Thomas E. Dewey, although 18 months out of the executive mansion, is still Mr. Republican in New Yorks state.

And the signs are that, if perchance President Eisenhower should not be up for renomination at the GOP national convention, Dewey will step back in to take firm control of the in New York state.

THIS WAS demonstrated clearly at the organization meeting of the Republican state committee last Monday.

Without a murmur of dissent, the approximately 200 members of the committee who attended:

1. Re-elected the entire slate of state committee officers, all warmly pro-Dewey.

2. Filled the 10 choice, delegate-at-large seats almost to a man with members of the old Dewey team.

EVEN MORE significant, Dewey served notice that he intends to name the nominal head of the delegation—popular L. Judson Morhouse. Dewey picked him two years ago to be GOP State Chairman.

Concerning the delegation, Dewey wrote Morhouse that "I should prefer not to serve as chairman" this time. Dewey headed it in 1952.

"Personally," he said, "I should like to see you as chairman and, with your consent, would like to propose your name at the meeting of the delegation for the election of officers."

Morhouse is a cinch to get the job when the delegation meets here next Thursday.

THE DELEGATION is solid for Eisenhower. So, if the President should decide his recent illness is no bar to a bid for reelection, Dewey can sit back and let nature take its course.

But, if Eisenhower should not be in the running, the master will want to have his hand on the throttle.

Morhouse has been busy wrapping up the delegation, just in

Saugerties C of C Approves $4,100 For Yule Lights

Installation of locally operated Christmas lighting for the business district of Saugerties at an approximate cost of $4,100 was approved by the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce at the regular meeting Wednesday night at the Exchange Hotel.

The low bid of Salvatore Provenzano, electrical contractor of Mt. Marion was accepted to undertake the project. Mr. Provenzano's bid was for $2,700 to cover the cost of installing permanent steel cables and the electrical hookup required to operate the annual Yule lights.

The next lowest bid was that of B and F Electrical Company of Blue Mountain asking $3,419 for the undertaking.

Prior to the voting Herbert Lachmann, chairman of the Christmas Lighting Committee, outlined the plan in detail and demonstrated with a scale model the arrangement which permits easy installation each year. The permanent cable feature will also permit use of the cables for special sale banners and other celebrations, he said.

According to Mr. Lachmann's report 16 permanent steel cables will be installed and will be decorated with lights, aluminum

Acreage Reserve for 1956 Soil Bank Is Announced

Instructions have been received for the acreage reserve portion of the 1956 Crop Soil Bank, it was announced today by John S. Geary, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Farmers with wheat acreage allotments are eligible to participate under the acreage reserve part of the program by reducing their acreage of wheat below the established allotment for the farm.

Specific fields must be designated for acreage reserve and the allotment under-planted by one or more of the following three ways:

First, by underplanting the farm allotment last fall due to the adverse weather conditions. Payment rate under this method will be $4 per acre.

Second, the 1956 wheat acreage is less than the allotment because of partial or complete destruction by natural causes. In these cases the rate will be $1.31 times the appraised yield of the designated area, but not less than $6 per acre.

Third, by plowing or otherwise incorporating into the soil, or by clipping, mowing or cutting an acreage within the farm allotment between May 27 and June 30, 1956. Payment rate for this type of participation will be $1.31 a bushel times the normal yield for the farm.

For example, a farmer who destroys five acres of his allotment under this method and who has a 25-bushel yield per acre will be paid $163.75.

Areas designated as acreage reserve cannot be grazed during the 1956 crop year, nor can any crop be harvested, however, seedings may be established for harvest in 1957. It is also anticipated that certain types of cover may be planted to control erosion. However, this cover may not be grazed or harvested in 1956.

Announcements of rates for the conservation reserve part of the soil bank will be made as soon as they are received from Washington and state ASC offices.

Farmers who wish to participate in the acreage reserve are requested to contact the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, 54 John street, on or before June 30.

Sullivan Man Is Accused of Attack

Ferndale, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—State police said today a Sullivan county handyman has admitted attempting to rape a Hurleyville housewife and setting fire to her home as she lay unconscious in the kitchen.

The house burned to the ground yesterday, police said, but the woman managed to crawl to safety.

They said Julius Wallace, 31, Negro, was held without bail on charges of first degree assault and second degree arson.

The woman, Mrs. Arthur Stikle, white, was reported in satisfactory condition at a Monticello hospital.

BPW Employes Get 3 Days Off In Family Death

The Board of Public Works yesterday adopted a proposal by Mayor Stang that department employes be granted three days off with pay in the event of a death in the immediate family of any employe.

The mayor said the policy of granting three days off with pay on that condition has been "unofficially" in effect in all city departments for some time and urged the board to act officially on the matter.

THE BOARD accepted a piece of property owned by George Schneider, of 90 Dunnemann avenue, located on Miller's Lane in the 12th Ward at the city line which, it is planned, would be used for widening Miller's Lane near the city line. Mr. Schneider's letter was referred to the corporation counsel to prepare the necessary deed.

A deed covering a section of Ringtop road from Valentine avenue across Wilkie avenue was accepted by the board and forwarded to the Common Council for adoption.

TENTATIVE assessments for sanitary sewers on Wilkie avenue and Mary's avenue, between West O'Reilly street and Benedictine Drive, were referred to the corporation counsel and Common Council for adoption.

A petition from Susan street residents for curbing on that street from Pine Grove avenue to Summer street was referred to City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan for investigation and an estimate of cost.

A joint request by Twelfth Ward Alderman Richard Roth (R), and Eleventh Ward Alderman William Davis (R), for improved street lighting on Washington avenue was referred to

Downgrading Stalin Stirs Students in East Germany

Berlin, June 21 (AP)—Communist party boss Walter Ulbricht admitted today there is widespread unrest in East German universities because of the anti-Stalin campaign.

Ulbricht, who is first deputy premier in East Germany as well as party secretary, charged some students with "enemy agitation" and warned them against contact with enemy agent centers.

Ulbricht has been the target of recent attacks by university students for his leading role in East Germany to downgrade Stalin.

In a speech published by the official Communist party newspaper, Neues Deutschland, Ulbricht injected a puzzling charge.

"It is known to us," he said, "that 2,500 students of the German democratic republic who have somehow come in contact with agent centers are registered with the center for slave trade."

He did not explain further nor identify the "center of slave trade."

Some of these students, he said, "have recently come forward with enemy agitation at the universities and institutes.

"It is understandable that criticism of the cult of the individual and the mistakes of Comrade Stalin had to have a deep

Argument Lasts 3 Hours On One-Way Traffic in Uptown Business Area

Ike Out Of Room Briefly

Washington, June 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower left his hospital room today for the first time since his operation June 9.

WHITE HOUSE Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President walked without support about 40 feet from his hospital bed into a corridor where he sat in a chair for a while before walking back to the bed.

The mid-day medical bulletin issued at Walter Reed Hospital said:

"The President's condition continues to progress very satisfactorily. His temperature, pulse, blood pressure and respiration all continue normal.

"This morning after breakfast the President walked from his room to the ward corridor, a distance of about 40 feet. He sat in a desk chair in the corridor for about 20 minutes and then walked back to his room.

LATER IN the morning he conferred about 45 minutes with the assistant to the President (Sherman Adams) and staff members on White House business."

One of the matters of business was formal acceptance with "best wishes" for "health and happiness" of the resignation of Robert B. McLeaisch as head of the Farmers Home Administration.

McLeaisch quit after Capitol Hill testimony that he was a heavy drinker. He denied the allegation and said he quit for "health reasons" on the suggestion of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

AMONG OTHER actions the President signed five bills, sent a number of nominations to the Senate, and signed two civil aeronautics board decisions and an atomic energy agreement between the United States and the Netherlands.

He received a briefing on the morning's cabinet meeting at the

Figures Given for Four Months

Report Shows Building Over Million in Area

Ten plans for construction or reconstruction of non-residential building in Ulster county at an estimated construction cost of $1,111,550 were submitted to the New York State Department of Labor during the first four months of 1956.

The announcement was made by Commissioner Isador Lubin who reported the figures compared with 12 plans at an estimated construction cost of $281,000 during the same period of 1955.

A 30 per cent increase in the value of building plans submitted to the department for industrial and mercantile construction or reconstruction outside New York city during the first four months of 1956 over the same period last year was indicated in the commissioner's report.

The comparable figures for the January-April periods were $83,588,742 for 1,697 plans in 1956 and $64,345,226 for 1,636 in 1955.

"The general trend of increased suburban factory and store construction which has characterized the last decade in New York state is continuing and is reflected in the figures for Nassau, Suffolk and Westchester counties," Commissioner Lubin said.

"Erie county has also shown a marked increase over its previous record, indicating a healthy economic climate in the heavily industrialized Niagara frontier region. There were 20 counties, however, which showed declines in the value of plans submitted," he said.

Nassau county led the January-April 1956 list with $20,008,296 estimated cost of construction and 337 plans submitted. Rankings for January-April, 1955, in estimated cost of construction were Nassau, Westchester, Suffolk and Erie; in plans submitted, Nassau led, followed by Suffolk, Erie and Westchester.

The largest decline, in terms of estimated construction cost, were registered in Dutchess, Albany, Saratoga, Rockland and Monroe counties. The decrease was in excess of $500,000 in each with Dutchess experiencing the greatest drop—$1,989,550.

Steelworkers Confer On Approach for Talks

New York, June 21 (AP)—Leaders of the United Steelworkers conferred privately today on the approach they will take when they resume contract talks this afternoon with the big three steel firms.

ELEVEN UNION negotiating teams yesterday broke off separate talks with 11 steel firms when it developed the whole industry was taking the same stand as the big three in favor of a five-year contract.

David J. McDonald, union president, and other union officials met with chairman of the 11 teams to get their reports and to weigh future strategy.

THE UNION threatens to call out 650,000 workers in the basic steel industry if a contract settlement is not reached by June 30—exipration date of the current contract.

The steelworkers broke off negotiations last Sunday with the "big three"—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic—after turning down a "stand pat" offer by the companies.

For the past two days union teams have negotiated separately with each of the "Big Three" and eight other firms.

YESTERDAY THOSE meetings were suspended, with union president, David J. McDonald saying:

"Each company presented the identical proposal previously tendered to the union by the 'Big Three' steel companies.

"Each of the union negotiating committees unanimously rejected the industry's proposal as entirely inadequate."

McDonald then asked for, and got, "Big Three" assent to resumption of joint sessions.

THE "INDIVIDUAL" talks were conducted by union negotiating teams from the companies' home areas. Following the breakdown in multiple negotiations, all members of the teams —except for the chairmen and secretaries—headed for home.

Union sessions with the "Big

Brick Talks Are Scheduled Again At Capri Today

Negotiations were scheduled to be resumed this afternoon in the strike which has shut down eight brickyards on the Hudson river between Beacon and Albany.

The Brickhandlers Union, Local 1467, representing some 700 workers, will meet with management representatives at the Capri Restaurant, it was reported.

Negotiations broke down on Wednesday of last week, the day before the old contract expired. Workers left their jobs on Friday.

The eight yards involved are Powell and Minnock at Coeymans, Sutton and Suderly at Ravena, Staples at Malden, Star, East Kingston Brick and Hutton in the Kingston area, J. J. Gova at Roseton and Denning's Point Brickworks at Beacon.

About 300 At Hearing Last Night

N. Front and 12th Ward Dissent, Police for Plan

Colonial Kingston aired its 20th century traffic clots in public hearing last night and left a raft of argument to be weighed by councilmen before they decide upon what is to be done pending completion of an arterial route, more parking facilities and a possible short auxiliary route in the uptown area.

ONE-WAY traffic, now on trial uptown, was the debated subject in the council chamber, city hall, crowded nearly to its 300 capacity, and more than three hours of argument was left with the Common Council's traffic committee for its study before a report and a vote by the aldermen either at a recessed session of the June meeting or possibly at the regular July session.

Argument by supporters of the one-way traffic pattern as it now stands, held generally that it is the only feasible solution pending completion of such important remedial projects as the arterial route, more parking areas, and the suggested street back of North Front Street.

OPPOSITION was generally in the vein of that voiced at the June 5 council meeting, and came largely from North Front street merchants and residents of the 12th ward who complained of added traffic on uptown residential streets.

Merchants complained of the present direction of the one-way flow on North Front street and those on residential streets argued against the increased volume, noise and general nuisance of the new traffic on their streets, and against the new danger, some felt, it created for children of the area.

POLICE CHIEF Raymond Van Buren said his department was for the system 100 per cent, and Fire Chief James M. Brett, noted that the traffic pattern allowed freer maneuverability of apparatus at the Stuyvesant Hotel fire.

Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who noted that the chamber is on record in favor of the present one-way pattern, stressed that this, is one of many problems now faced by the city, and he felt that "The longer we delay facing them, the more difficult and expensive the solutions become."

AT LEAST ONE of the nearly 30 persons, who spoke at the session felt that the Chamber of Commerce decision was premature, and others held that none of the suggested changes in the plan were tried to determine if they would work toward improvement of the traffic pattern.

Charles J. Murphy, traffic engineer of the Automobile Club, of New York, who was instrumental in designing the traffic pattern, and who was at the session to answer questions, indicated that such alternate plans

Red Cross Progress Discussed, Awards Are Presented to Feeney and Riseley

Courtney N. Oleen, assistant director of services at military installations, was the speaker at the annual membership meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, Red Cross Wednesday night at St. John's Church parish hall. Mr. Oleen, who has been associated with Red Cross since 1942 brought greetings to the Ulster County Chapter on its 47th anniversary.

Established in 1909, Mr. Oleen said the local Chapter was one of the oldest in the state. Introduced by Second Vice President James A. Hanstein, the speaker reviewed briefly the history of Red Cross which is observing its 75th anniversary this year. He referred to the establishment of the United States Sanitary Commission during the Civil War, an organization begun by a group of women to aid the suffering of service men and which was ultimately united into the Army Sanitary Commission and likened it to the present service of the Red Cross. He said that while the Red Cross was not established until later, it might be said that the basic idea originates back in Civil War days when neighbor began helping neighbor in time of trouble.

At the conclusion of the membership meeting at which directors were elected, the directors met and reelected Mrs. William H. Merrill, chairman; Mrs. William T. Fuller, first vice chairman; James A. Hanstein, second vice chairman; Mrs. Frank W. Thompson, third vice president and Mrs. Walter Jeghers, secretary. Richard V. Roth was elected treasurer to succeed Oscar J. Lawatsch.

Named directors were Mrs. Donald Allen of New Paltz, Mrs. George W. Brown of Hurley, Mrs. Walter Jeghers, Arthur Maurer, Mrs. William H. Merrill, Raymond P. North of Ellenville, Joseph E. O'Connor of Rosendale, Henry H. Parker, Robert M. Peebles, Paul F. Rafferty of Saugerties, Mrs. Walter F. Rost of New Paltz, Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, Mrs. Andrew J. Snyder of Rosendale. Arthur Kurtznacker was elected for a year to fill the unexpired term of Francis H. Law, who resigned, and David Cunningham of Saugerties, one year to fill the unexpired term of J. Ellis Briggs, resigned. The names were presented by Elmer Rylance, chairman of the nominating committee.

Members of the executive committee named are:

Mrs. William H. Merrill, Mrs. William T. Fuller, James A. Hanstein, Mrs. Frank W. Thompson, Richard V. Roth, Mrs. Walter Jeghers, Frederick

Navy to Enlist Wave Group From New York State

In line with its policy of maintaining a nucleus of well trained personnel which could spearhead mobilization in case of any eventuality, the Navy is conducting a special drive to enlist young women of New York state. Enlistees during the sign up period 25 June to 25 July will comprise a special "Wave" company that will train together in the Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md.

The oath of allegiance will be administered to the special company August 14, in New York. The company has been named the Victory Company in commemoration of the Wave accomplishments of World War 2.

THE "WAVES" have contributed in no small measure to national defense, proving themselves to be dedicated and devoted partners in the vital task of upholding the American heritage of freedom. They are a permanent part of the United States Navy, filling important assignments which are essential to maintaining our fleets at sea.

To young women, this drive presents a world of opportunity, a chance to embark on a unique career, and a chance to join a proud service with a glorious history and highest traditions.

To prepare for tasks ahead, Waves are trained along the most modern professional lines. Progress leads to promotions with corresponding boosts in pay. The Navy's vast educational program afford them unlimited opportunities for mental growth. Waves enjoy travel and adventure at home and abroad, and see places of historical and world importance.

The Navy puts much emphasis on opportunity. Young women who join the naval service find the answers to many of their questions, which leads to a fuller enjoyment of life.

THE HEALTH and welfare of its personnel are always the Navy's concern, and everything is provided to insure their well being. The best of medical and dental care—all free, recreational facilities, spiritual guidance, congenial surroundings and companionships, and leave with pay are among the many things Waves enjoy. They feel a sense of belonging, pride in partnership, and a deep satisfaction in patriotic service.

Young women who are high school graduates, between the ages of 18 and 26, who desire to serve with the dedicated women of the Navy are urged to visit the Navy Recruiting Station, Room 209, Central Post Office, in Kingston.

Parking Hazards

Orange, Va. (AP)—Police here understand the hazards of parking. For the third time the department's only police car has been ruined while standing still. A car caromed off a trailer truck and did it this time. Two years ago a garage fire did it and in 1952 a train smacked a lumber truck and the flying timbers buried the parked prowl car.

THOMAS J. WATSON

It is unfortunate that men like Thomas J. Watson, who died Tuesday, cannot live forever. His death is a great loss not only to his immediate family, the IBM family and to the nation but also to mankind.

Mr. Watson selected the Kingston area for the development and expansion of the great world-wide industry, which he founded. Today over 5,000 men and women are employed here in its production of material for the defense of the country and machines for the future progress of the nation.

He had the foresight to guide the International Business Machines Corp. in the production of machines and in the providing of services which will be needed more and more down through the years to keep our nation in the forefront. As our nation continues to expand and activities increase, there has to be a technology so that our American society can function in its rightful place among the nations of the world. Through Mr. Watson's genius and business acumen his organization became a vital part of this new and ever changing technological age.

Under the direction of Mr. Watson, the IBM organization grew to an industrial giant with massive plants of the most modern refinements being erected throughout the country. However, these plants represent more than just architectural perfection. Above all else, it represents Mr. Watson's ardent faith in people and his steadfast conviction that this nation will go forward to new heights for the well being of mankind.

This tremendous contribution to his time was but part of his life's work. His profound interest in world peace, education and human relations rounded out one of America's outstanding citizens.

A champion of human relations and a generous supporter of civic and charitable endeavors, he lived a great life. The record of his life is written in the hearts of people whom he loved and who loved him. This record cannot be destroyed and his spirit will go on forever.

The continuation of this spirit will assure the IBM organization of eminence and even greatness in the years ahead.

Canada has begun to plan a transcontinental radar network to help control air traffic in the future. It's none too soon to start figuring out how to keep all those jets of the future out of each other's tail winds.

RIGID ENFORCEMENT

In 1903 there were 466 fireworks deaths in the United States. Last year there was only one. Quite a record of progress.

Back in 1903 a rather ridiculous looking machine was just sputtering into being. Last year that machine—evolving from the ungainly horseless carriage into the sleek and powerful modern automobile—claimed 407 lives during the Fourth of July holiday.

Thus the net gain in our efforts to avoid holiday self-destruction seems to be about zero. Yet there is a lesson to be learned here.

Fireworks deaths on the Fourth have been almost eliminated because thinking persons revolting at such senseless killing, and state by state the sale and use of dangerous fireworks were prohibited.

No one, of course, is advocating that the sale or use of automobiles be banned. But we strongly urge the outlawing of their misuse.

Most people want to use their cars safely. But in every society there is always a minority of reckless and irresponsible drivers who turn a deaf ear to all appeals for prudent and commonsense behavior.

It is for this group that the National Safety Council and the International Association of Chiefs of Police have jointly recommended a rigid law enforcement policy by all police agencies during the Fourth of July celebration.

We strongly support this recommendation. A traffic accident emergency faces this country, with a new all-time high death toll in prospect. It is time to stop temporizing with this problem. The Fourth of July holiday is a good time to start getting tough.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

NASSER'S VICTORY

The celebration in Egypt over driving the British out of the management of the Suez Canal means more than taking over the ditch that played such a role in the Victorian British Empire. Realistically, it means that Soviet Russia, Nasser's ally and underwriter, has developed a big role in the Middle East and that the system of Air Bases which the United States has erected in North Africa may well be liquidated by political action.

The key American base, the Wheelus Air Base, is in Libya which has been receiving a subsidy of approximately $17,000,000 a year from the United States and Great Britain.

Egypt and Saudi Arabia are offering Libya the same amount of money if Libya will join them and drop the United States and Great Britain. Saudi Arabia gets its funds from American oil companies which have developed the natural resources of that otherwise barren land. It would not at all be surprising if some day, Saudi Arabia drives out the American oil companies and sells the product to Soviet Russia. It might prove to be a profitable deal to Saudi Arabia for a while.

Will we protect American property and national interests by armed force? Probably not, under the theory that if a nation wants to be neutral, it ought to be permitted to be neutral because the United States was neutral in the early years of its history. This will go down in American history as the Eisenhower Doctrine alongside the Monroe Doctrine and the John Hay Doctrine of the Open Door.

The inadequacy of the Eisenhower Doctrine on Neutrality is that it does not explain to any country, for instance to Libya or to France or Italy, why all nations should not be neutral, bargaining as they can, with anyone that will bargain with them.

Or better still, why should not Libya takes its $17,000,000 from the United States, take whatever it can get from Egypt and Saudi Arabia and from anyone else that is handing out money as foreign aid while their own people suffer privations? Why not grab whatever is lying around while the grabbing is possible? Maybe before long, some country will get wise to the futility of handing out money "with no strings attached," and the weak and backward countries will grow weaker and more backward. What Libya asks for is an additional $67,000,000 for a six-year plan. Of course, nobody knows how much of this money will ever go down to the people.

It would be interesting to read a verifiable account of what Ibn Saud has done with the hundreds of millions which have come to him, apart from proliferating harems. How much of this great wealth has worked its way to the Arab peoples?

The real measure of the value of foreign aid, certainly from this country, is not what goes to governments but what goes to the people in the form of higher standards of living, more education, better facilities for improving health, etc. How much of the money that the United States has paid out to any nation is used in this manner and how much goes to the coffers of the ruling families? Ibn Saud, for instance, has ample reason to be grateful to the United States, but he is not and the question might well be asked whether he believes that he owes us anything at all. And that question might be asked of all countries as long as our aid is not directly employed to benefit the people of a country and not only the rulers of it.

This has been an important problem since the days of UNRRA when we discarded the World War I and post-World War I relief experience and adopted a pattern which benefited governments. The discarding of all prior experience was characteristic of the 1940's which suffered from what might be called a Marco Polo complex; that is, each man became an original discoverer of what had already been discovered and fully explored.

But we are now in 1956 and it would seem that we should have learned something by experience and one thing we might have learned is that there is no value in giving our wealth away except on the basis of doing something to help the people of a country raise their standard of life and doing it with an American label.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

DRUGS FOR ANXIETY

Physicians since the days of Hippocrates have asserted that there is a relationship between anxiety states and true symptoms and disease. It is not surprising, then, that drugs are used in the treatment of anxiety but only that their use on a wide scale should be comparatively recent. It was not until 1857 that the first generally accepted chemical agent in the treatment of disorders of the nervous system—the bromides—came into use. Sir Charles Lacock used bromide in treating 14 cases of epilepsy with good results.

The bromides act to depress the central nervous system—the brain and the spinal cord—which controls the voluntary muscles (those which require an act of the will) of the body. It is the central nervous system that is concerned with the adjustment of the individual to his outside surroundings. Depression of the central nervous system results in sedation (a state of lessened activity of all the processes of the body) although just how this acts is still, a century later, obscure. Less obscure are the side effects of the use of bromides—a wide range of mental, nervous and stomach disturbances, often more serious than the ailment under treatment.

The next important step in the drug treatment of anxiety came at the turn of the century when the German chemist, Emil Fischer, introduced the first barbiturate, veronal, named after Verona, Italy, through which Fischer supposedly was passing when he hit upon the barbiturate formula. From this came phenobarbital, even today one of the most widely used drugs in the treatment of anxiety states.

Like the bromides, the barbiturates produce sedation through depression of the central nervous system, but in ordinary dosages produce no ill effects on the vital functions of the body. Prolonged use, however, may result in confusion and accentuation of symptoms. Barbiturates, in addition, "must be considered drugs liable to produce addiction," according to the Expert Committee on Drug Addiction of the World Health Organization. There are an estimated 50,000 barbiturate addicts in the United States alone.

Although death from ordinary doses of barbiturates is practically unknown, the ease with which they may be taken probably accounts for their popularity among persons wishing to commit suicide. Many persons die each year from accidental poisoning by barbiturates.

Sedation itself, while it does, in most cases, relieve tension and produce sleep, both desirable in the relief of the anxious state, presents important drawbacks. Sedatives make the patient drowsy, cloud his mind and make him unresponsive. With the "rediscovery" in 1952 of the remarkable Indian plant root, Rauwolfia serpentina, a new class of drugs for the treatment of anxiety states came into prominence. We will discuss them more fully tomorrow.

The Other End of the Rope

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA)—Department of Agriculture's original idea to keep the soil bank plan from being converted into a glorified crop insurance plan in this year"s drought and flood areas turns out to be all wrong. Farmers with damaged crops will now be able to put land in acreage reserve and get benefits.

The misunderstanding seems to have arisen from the fact that Department of Agriculture lawyers and experts didn't correctly interpret the intent of Congress.

The Senate version of the farm bill directed only that the Secretary of Agriculture start the soil bank program with the 1956 program "to the extent that he deems practicable."

This led to an assumption there would be no serious effort to get the soil bank under way this year.

THE HOUSE OF Representatives version of the bill, however, directed that the soil bank be started with 1956 crops. And when Senate and House conferees met to compromise their differences, the House language was adopted.

Section 103 of the law provides that the acreage reserve may include land not planted for a 1956 crop, or land planted and clipped or plowed under before dates to be set later.

Section 105 provides further that . . . "The Secretary shall make an adjustment in yields for drought, flood or other abnormal conditions in estimating the loss of production for purposes of establishing rates of compensation . . ."

In spite of these clear directives from Congress, when Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson made his early June swing through the midwest, he declared in a speech before a dairy day festival at Beaver Dam, Wis.:

"We should not make the soil bank over into a type of crop insurance that a farmer can take out after his crop has failed."

THIS STATEMENT really threw mud in the legislative machinery. Rep. W. R. Poage (D.-Tex.), floor manager for the bill in the House, declared that "This bill, in plain words, says that farmers shall have the right to put their land in the soil bank, whether or not planted to the production of a 1956 crop. It includes those farmers who don't have a good crop now. They can put part of their land in the soil bank."

Back in Washington after his midwest swing, Secretary Benson says he got a lot of questions from farmers on the soil bank, but he refused to make policy decisions in the field. The law was too complex. Lawyers were still studying it.

In his Beaver Dam speech, the Secretary says he was talking about the long-range, conservation reserve program. He admits that criticism is probably justified because he did not distinguish between the emergency, 1956 acreage reserve and long-range conservation for later years.

WHERE THIS SEEMS to leave the situation is that there will be no crop insurance type payments in 1957-60. But this year, yes, there will be.

How much these payments will be and how many farmers will be able to collect them can't be determined now. Crop damage from drought and flood has not been surveyed. And no soil bank contracts have yet been signed with farmers for compliance.

It appears now that the maximum any farmer can put in the acreage reserve this year is one-half of his allotment, or 50 acres, whichever is greater.

If a farmer's crop, planted this year, is completely destroyed, he will get an appraised yield payment which will be not less than $6 an acre. On winter wheat land, if the farmer couldn't plant a crop for harvest this year because of drought or flood, he could get a minimum $4 an acre.

Secretary Benson makes a rough estimate that as many as 50 per cent of the farmers in dust bowl or flooded areas might become eligible for these payments this year.

Hagerty Is Lauded for Ban On Debate of Health Issue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 21—When Presidential secretary James Hagerty said he wasn't going to engage in a debate with newsmen on what some doctor's have been quoted in the press as saying about the President's illness because, as he points out, they don't know this particular case, it was, of course, a commonsense decision.

There is a certain puzzlement, however, as to why there are such persistent attempts in the press to try to knock down what the President's physicians have said.

IT'S A STRANGE contrast to the way the press behaved from the time Franklin D. Roosevelt became a candidate for the Presidency in 1932 till the day he died in April, 1945. Not a single movie newsreel and not a single news photograph that this correspondent ever saw or heard about told the people that the President of the United States actually couldn't walk, that special ramps had to be built at the White House and the Capitol, that he couldn't stand when greeting foreign visitors, or that he never stood up at a single press conference. When he campaigned, his entrances t o and exits from meeting places were carefully screened.

None of the news dispatches of the President's inauguration on Jan. 20, 1945, moreover, reported that Mr. Roosevelt had to be lifted up by members of his family and supported while he took the oath of office and read the inaugural address from the White House balcony. There was no adverse comment on why he didn't go to the Capitol for the occasion.

Throughout Mr. Roosevelt's public life—as Governor of New York and as a candidate for the Presidency and while he was in the White House during a period of more than twelve years—no appreciable number of the American people ever knew of the physical disability of the man they elected four times. Some newsmen hereabouts were told in 1944 about the comment of an eminent Boston physician that a paralysis such as Mr. Roosevelt had suffered would cut down his life expectancy. But they didn't write the story.

WAS THIS a mistake on the part of the press and its photographers? Not at all. It was good taste and decency. It was a respect for the high office of President. The only question that was germane then and that is germane now is whether a President is mentally capable. A man with the type of heart attack Mr. Eisenhower has had doesn't suffer any injury to his mind—and neither does any one with his experience with ileitis.

Then why is so much prominence given to the speculation by one or two doctors that the illness might recur when the doctors handling the case say they believe it will not recur? Why is there so much emphasis on the alleged damage of the stomach ailment expressed by Democratic politicians and their henchmen who keep on thinking up every day new angles of skepticism?

The theory usually heard in defense of such tactics is that the American people are entitled to all the facts about their president. They certainly are, but the implication that, when once they know the facts, they will not vote to re-elect Mr. Eisenhower is just partisan thinking of a wishful nature.

The best refutation of the theory that the American electorate will not elect a man with a physical handicap is the way the people reacted toward Franklin Roosevelt. Does anybody who is an admirer of Mr. Roosevelt really believe that, if his ardent supporters throughout the country had known in November, 1944, that Mr. Roosevelt was not a well man, they would have refused to elect him and would have voted for Mr. Dewey? Did the people know whether an obscure Senator from Missouri who had been nominated for Vice-President would make a good President? It will be said in reply that, of course, there was a war on then. But today there's a crisis almost as important to the world—the maneuvers of the "cold" war and the threat of World War 3.

THE ELECTORATE naturally will discuss a candidate's health because the opposition party spokesmen will inevitably bring it up. But looking back to 1944 and assuming that the Republicans had had the bad manners and bad taste being exhibited today by the Democrats, few persons who have studied the trends in Presidential elections will agree that this would have elected Thomas E. Dewey.

Restraint is better in the long run than smear campaigns which violate the nation's sense of decency. Attempts to picture Mr. Eisenhower as a hopeless invalid or to imply that he isn't carrying on the duties of his office because he doesn't do everything the partisans want him to do are bound in the end to lose votes for their sponsors. The American people react to wrong tactics because they have an innate belief in fair play.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Chicago, June 20 — There is droll humor in the idea that any gang of politicians could formulate a code of ethics worthy of the respect of anyone. Nevertheless the proposition is seriously put forth that George Meany and a jury of his peers shall formulate a schedule of improprieties to restrain a cult of incorrigibles armed with powers which Congress itself has never dared to claim.

Meany is president of the AFL-CIO thanks, primarily, to wanton hoodlums of union councils of the City of New York, most of all to Joe Ryan, of the longshoremen, who packed a state convention with dummy locals sufficient to overwhelm Meany's opposition. To suggest that Meany was an innocent, unwitting beneficiary would be to condemn him as an imbecile and disqualify him for all rights not enjoyed by any ward of the courts.

Meany's repudiation of Ryan since Notre Dame gave him a medal for doing his duties raises a question of ethics so painful that the committee on ethics never could be expected to give it certiorari. For in disowning Ryan, Meany repudiated Ryan's evil works including the fraud which gave him his start toward his present eminence. It would be well not to make too much of such convenient evasion of an ethical agony by a committee on ethics. After all, the Supreme Court doesn't give ear to problems which it is bound by political policy to decide against the evidence and the clear meaning of the Constitution. Such was the case of the so-called Marshall girls of Marshall, Tex., in their delicate rebellion against the baby-sitters' Social Security tax. At loss for casuistry to sustain this outrage, the court, according to its imperious right, simply refused to hear it and so ducked the issue whether Congress had become master of the people, as the law boldly implies. By silent consent, however, the court so holds.

To grant that the unions are capable of ethical regulation is like assuming honor among thieves and that thieves will obey the prompts of conscience. All cops, indeed, all thieves reject this superstition. All worldly men and women who have had relations with professional unioneers, magnates of industry and tin-cup mendicants of politics wheedling for the "labor vote" will agree that it is equally foolish to hope that workers and the public under unionism will get anything better than the worst of it in all controversies.

Unions, with or without the collusion of professional quibblers employed by massive corporations with the title of "vice president for Labor Relations," never will yield any advantage except in the presence of superior force. All who hope otherwise are laggards living in the long ago.

Unions alone claim the power to invent crimes neither Congress nor any State Legislature would presume to write upon the public law books and to set up kangaroo courts to inflict penalties ranging from small fines to total ostracism from all lawful employment. Unions never have admitted that such conduct may be challenged. Not only that, but they claim the right to improvise crimes and penalties in the manner of Adolf Hitler, who may have swiped the idea from proceedings of the American Federation of Musicians recorded long before he got his mandate from his pagan deities. The impudence of the federal courts toward mulish nonconformists who truly tates the brutal arrogance of are living in the past often imithese union tribunals. That, however, has been a development of the Roosevelt-Truman-Eisenhower revolution.

The people have nobody to remind them that they, the people, have no representative sitting in the proposed deliberations between the unions, the government and "industry," with a view to the formulation of ethics. Their press seems as ill-informed as they are.

The rascality of unionism is flatly conceded because otherwise there would be no occasion for this meeting. The government for the last 20 years has been the patron, defender, accomplice and political agent of these rackets and consistently their partner in crimes against the rights of citizens, each and in the mass.

And "Industry" or "Management" is as brutal, cynical and crooked as the other two elements. Its only purpose is to protect its own material interests. If "Industry" or "Management" can make more money with the least inconvenience by selling out its employees to extortioners chartered by Meany's job-monopoly, the vice-presidents for labor relations will eagerly sign, they will all pose flashing fleshly smiles and the citizens, all of us, will have been shoved yet further from our rightful place at the head of all such councils.

Action Is Sought To Reduce July 4 Traffic Deaths

Chicago, June 21 (AP)—Two leading traffic safety groups have called for a nationwide crackdown enforcement to hold down the traffic death toll during the July 4 holiday.

THE NATIONAL Safety Council and the International Assn. of Chiefs of Police yesterday said appeals to drivers must be coupled with strict law enforcement to curb the reckless minority. The two groups agreed that such action is the only way to lower the death toll on a short-term basis.

Joint recommendations for the 30-hour holiday from 6 p. m. Tuesday, July 3, to midnight July 4, included cancellation of days off for police and use of plainclothes persons and unmarked cars. They seek to concentrate patrol on heavily traveled streets and highways.

THE GROUPS urged concentration on speeding violators and use of whatever enforcement means are available locally, such as radar. They also recommended publicising the program in advance so motorists will understand and cooperate.

The Council estimated 50 million vehicles will be on highways during the holiday.

One hundred and sixty national groups are taking part in the program to lower the death toll.

Ammunition Explodes

Elmira, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Firemen had to contend with exploding 22-caliber cartridges and shotgun shells whiles they put out a blaze in a two-story business building here. No one was hurt. The fire burned out the building yesterday and damaged two others. Damage was estimated at $30,000. The cause was not immediately determined. The ammunition was stored in an arms shop in the building.

Ike's Atom Ship Looks Drydocked

Washington, June 21 (AP) — President Eisenhower's atomic peace ship appeared today definitely to have been drydocked by the 84th Congress.

Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee and long a foe of the project, told a reporter he considered it "dead."

Sen. Hickenlooper (R.-Ia.), administration spokesman on atomic energy matters, said in a separate interview he could not say that "anything will be done about it this year."

Republicans had a chance in the Senate yesterday to offer a floor amendment for the President's plan. They did not do so although it was reported they canvassed the prospects.

Obtain Court Order

Rochester, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—The United Electrical Workers Union (Ind.) has obtained a Federal Court order temporarily restraining the presidents and financial secretaries of 10 former locals of the union in western New York from transferring or using any funds, other assets or property of the locals. Judge Harold P. Burke issued the order yesterday on a complaint by UE President Albert J. Fitzgerald. The judge directed the defendants to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be granted. The hearing was set for June 28.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, June 20 — Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richard and son, Paul, of New York spent the weekend at their summer home in the village center. Mrs. Richard and the boy will probably come up Saturday to remain here for the summer.

John A. Wicks, Newburgh antiques dealer, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Thursday.

Mrs. Donald Burnstine and daughter, Laurie, flew to Willow Grove, Ill., recently to spend two weeks with Mrs. Burnstine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Schroeder.

The Rev. Richard R. Guice, who was assigned to the Ashokan Methodist charge by the Conference recently, conducted services in the three churches of the charge last Sunday. Dominie Guice is son of the Rev. Robert B. Guice, retired Middletown clergyman who was pastor here some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller of New Kingston were in Shokan Thursday while returning home from a trip down the river. The couple jointly pursue the interesting hobby of locating old covered bridges in the Empire State and learning their history. Recently, they ascertained through the supervisor of the Town of Hardenburgh the information that the bridge spanning the Esopus Creek at Winchell's Falls, below the Ashokan main dam, formerly was located on the famed Beaverkill trout stream. It was brought to Olive and reassembled by the late Lester and Barbara Mohring at their home hard by the site of Lemuel Winchell's store, gristmill and foundry of Revolutionary War days.

Wedding anniversaries falling Tuesday, June 26, include that of Charles and Vera (Van-Steenburgh) Sickler, Shokan residents who were married here in 1926.

James G. Aitken of Hillsdale, N. J., was a caller here Sunday in the course of a trip to Saratoga.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Olsen spent the weekend in New York with Howard's mother, Inga Olsen. Their two children, Roy and Christine, stayed with their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Valdmer Christensen, in Shokan. The Howard Olsens are building a road to a lot near the Christensen residence where they plan to start building a home in the near future.

Mrs. Lawrence Spencer of Bridgeport, Conn., was at her Shokan place on Route 28 Saturday. Mr. Spencer, who was noted as an ardent fisherman in the Catskills, and also in the Indian River country of Florida where the couple had a winter home, died several weeks ago in Connecticut.

Patrick Kelly of Inwood, L. I., came here for the weekend to attend to the installation of water facilities in his new summer home on the old Longyear place. The Kellys will get water from their own 200-ft. driven well.

Mrs. Ernest Eckert of Olive Bridge arrived here by bus Sunday morning from Endicott where she had been visiting her brother, Grant Beesmer, a native of Olive. Mrs. Eckert, who has many friends in the reservoir country, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Beesmer whose home in days before the waterworks was on the Charles H. Weidner farm along the Bushkill.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson of the village center have rented the Alfred Flad house, two doors west of the Reformed Church, and will move there this week.

Briefly Told

Unadilla, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Edwin M. Beach, 72-year-old farmer, died of a fractured skull yesterday after he was thrown from a wagon.

State police said two horses pulling the wagon had bolted when it caught on a gate at Beach's farm in this Otsego county village.

* * *

Chambersburg, Pa., June 21 (AP)—Seven new mission congregations have been admitted to the Eastern District of the American Lutheran Church.

Included in the congregations admitted yesterday was that at Town Line, Erie county, N. Y.

* * *

Norwich, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Members of the Norwich Rotary Club have abandoned their traditional group singing in favor of a more timely program.

They'll discuss the developing presidential campaign during summer meetings and club voted this week to eliminate the singing to allow more time for the political pursuits.

Had So Many Loans Lester Lost Track

Buffalo, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Business promoter Harry Lester's financial affairs, involving loans of more than a million dollars, became so involved he lost track of how much and to whom he owed money, according to trial testimony here.

An FBI agent, testifying as a government witness yesterday quoted Lester as saying his complex transactions forced him to flee Buffalo in Oct., 1954.

Jack Morgan, special agent at the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Phoenix, Ariz., office, quoted statements made by Lester during a two-hour interview shortly after his arrest in Phoenix April 6.

Lester, whose real name is Hyman Trugman and who was known in Phoenix as Harry Byrd, is being tried on a 13-count indictment charging that he used a check-kiting scheme to defraud more than 12 victims of $143,989.85.

The trial, which began Monday, was adjourned until next Monday because of other commitments by the court.

Weekly Food Review

(By the Associated Press)

Weekend shoppers will find lower price tags on pork and lamb in most food stores across the country this week. A continued drop in the wholesale market indicates even further price cuts are in the offing.

MOST RETAIL price reductions so far reflect the sharp decline in wholesale prices a week ago. Both pork and lamb went still lower this week but at a much slower rate.

There was also slight weakness on the market for beef but hardly enough to change the retail price on most cuts. In some sections certain cuts will actually retail at higher prices this week.

Meat specials for the weekend vary widely throughout the country, reflecting local supplies and tastes. In New England a number of stores offer specials in lobster and other fish. In scattered sections of the country young, small-size turkeys are offered.

But in general housewives will find the mainstay of weekend special lists are ground, chuck and other standard beef cuts, veal and lamb.

SALAD GREENS, spring onions, radishes, spinach and cabbage make up the best buys generally available at vegetable counters. Government market observers picked this list of salad bowl ingredients as outstanding buys just as salad dressing manufacturers got ready to celebrate mayonnaise and salad dressing week, starting today.

Good buys in vegetable include beans, beets and squash, which are still being shipped from southern states. The asparagus season is tapering off and cuttings vary widely in quality and condition. Good buys in asparagus can still be found in many sections, however.

A WIDE VARIETY of early summer fruits are now available from southern and western orchards. Plums, grapes, peaches, nectarines, apricots and cantaloupes are being shipped to all parts of the country in increasing quantity, but prices are still high and well above what they will be when local crops are available.

Oranges and grapefruits are entering their high season but are still just about the best buy throughout the country. Strawberries are now in good supply in most sections. The good quality fruit is usually moderately priced.

Wandering Dog

South Hadley Falls, Mass. — William Engel's three-year-old collie Prince got a touch of wanderlust and took an 80-mile trip. Prince was gone eight days when Engel got a call from George Westris of Slaterville, R. I.—80 miles away—that Prince was there. The dog's address was on his tag. Engle brought him home and Prince seemed content to stay around—for a while anyway.

Animals in Jail

Columbus, Miss. (AP) — Sheriff Robert Jernigan found a dog and her five pups in the back of the car of a man he arrested for drunken driving. He put the dog family in one cell and the man in another. The same day he found a goat in a similar case. He tried leaving the goat with a farmer. But the farmer objected to the animal in strong language. The goat also ended up in a cell next to his master.

Help! Help!

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP) — A controversy exists over whether men should be arrested and fined for not wearing beards in observance of the 250th anniversary celebration. William Gould, who is against compulsory growing of beards, suggests a police car should follow the 250th celebration "Kangaroo Kourt" on its rounds to pick up nonbearded citizens. He wants it to answer calls for help from citizens who don't want to be molested.

Clue Based on Sand

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—Police at last found a use for the sand that has plagued housewives and city officials for years. A landry was burglarized and policeman S. A. Romero was driving along a paved street when he noticed two young men removing sand from their shoes. There was no sand on that particular street, but there was considerable sand at the sit of the burglarized laundry. The two were arrested when Romero found they had some of the stolen clothes.

Boy, 16, Admits Slaying 2 Girls

Upper Marlboro, Md., June 21 (AP)—A 16-year-old reform school inmate has confessed the year-old slaying of two 'teen-age girls in a park near the University of Maryland, State's Attorney Blair H. Smith of Prince Georges county reported today.

SMITH SAID the youth, committed to the Maryland Training School for Boys several weeks ago for car theft, gave police investigators a detailed account of ambushing the girls in Northwest Branch Park with a .22 caliber repeater rifle. The scene is a few miles outside Washington, D. C.

Nancy Marie Shomette, 16, and Michael Ann Ryan, 14, were killed the morning of June 15, 1955, as they walked through the suburban park to get Nancy's report card at Northwestern High School.

"WE ARE ONLY checking out one or two inconsistencies before charging the boy, probably today," Smith said.

He did not name the youth, who first told his story to Claude F. Libis, a supervisor at the training school. Smith quoted the youth as saying he did not know the girls.

Have you tried frozen kale? It's delicious seasoned with onion and teamed with a cream sauce.

CAB Awaits Word On Ocean Search

New York, June 21 (AP)—A spokesman for the U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board said today that continuance of grappling operations for the remains of the 74 persons who died in yesterday's plane crash would depend upon "the decision of the Venezuelan government."

The Venezuelan four-engined Superconstellation crashed 32 miles off the New Jersey coast, beyond the territorial waters of the United States.

ALTHOUGH THE accident occured outside the board's jurisdiction, the board quickly went into action, collecting what evidence it could and standing ready to help.

But, said the CAB spokesman, further grappling procedure would await arrival of Venezuelan inspectors flying from Caracas. Officials of the airline, Linea Aeropostal Venezolana, said the inspectors were due to arrive tonight.

The Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington announced its investigators were moving into the probe at the request of the crash occurred outside of CAB's jurisdiction but the agency had offered to cooperate in an inquiry and had been collecting evidence.

CAB SAID Gordon Matthews, assistant chief of its investigation division, and Eugene Searle, CAB investigator in New York, had been assigned to the task. They will have the help of such technicians as are needed.

The Coast Guard said it will continue grappling operations "if the CAB desires."

Marilyn, Miller to Wed

Washington, June, 21 (AP)—Playwright Arthur Miller said today he is going to marry film star Marilyn Monroe before July 13. Miller let the news out in talking with reporters at a short break in a hearing at which he was being questioned by the House Committee on Un-American activities. The 40-year-old playwright said he had been too busy recently to fix with Miss Monroe the exact date of their marriage, but "I hope to settle it all right soon."

Woman, 84, Shows Up After Two Hours in Woods

An 84-year-old New York city woman was the object of a two-hour search in the Esopus area early Wednesday night after she disappeared from the home of her nephew, William Drescher, in the village of Esopus.

Several hours after her disappearance into woods in the Esopus section, Mrs. Margaret Rohsbach turned up in West Park two or three miles away, stopping at a home there to ask for a glass of water.

Mrs. Rohsbach apparently suffered no ill effects from her experience, it was reported by the Ulster county sheriff's office which spearheaded the search for the missing woman.

Mrs. Rohsbach came to Esopus from New York on Monday to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Drescher.

SHE WANDERED off about 5:20 p. m. and the family searched for her for about an hour before calling the sheriff's office.

When the call was received by the sheriff's office at 6:30 p. m, Deputy Sheriff George Bynner was dispatched to the scene and organized a search party which included approximately 25 members of the Esopus Volunteer Fire Department and a number of Boy Scouts from the Esopus organization.

Within a short time Undersheriff Clayton W. Vredenberg, County Investigator Arthur Brown, Jailer Carl Cline and Deputies Peter Peterson, Arthur Smith and Tony Alecca reached the scene and the search was intensified.

ABOUT 8:40 p. m., with the search at its height, Mrs. Drescher received a call from the Highland state police reporting that Mrs. Rohsbach was there. Mrs. Drescher drove to the Highland barracks to return Mrs. Rohsbach home.

As the sheriff's office pieced the story together, Mrs. Rohsbach wandered through the woods to the railroad tracks of the New York Central and followed the tracks for two or three miles to West Park. On the way she apparently stopped to pick berries.

She stopped at a home near the West Park railroad station to ask for a drink of water. The family, not identified, realizing that Mrs. Rohsbach was in difficulty, telephoned the sheriff's office.

Actor's Son Booked

West Los Angeles, June 21 (AP)—Edward G. Robinson Jr., 24, son of the stage and screen actor, was booked today on suspicion of drunk driving after, police said, his sports car collided with four parked cars two blocks from his home. Robinson was uninjured, officers reported, but attendants at Santa Monica Hospital said that a passenger in his car, Martin Barth, 37, will lose the sight of his right eye. Dr. John Gilmore said Barth's eye was injured "beyond repaid." "It will have to come out," Dr. Gilmore added.

Gilpatric Declines

Tabulation of the primary vote has been completed by the Board of Elections and it was indicated there were no contests and the only write-in campaign which produced results was that for James F. Gilpatric who received the Democratic designation for the office of coroner. The Democratic party had made no recommendation at its convention. However Mr. Gilpatric has filed a declination with the board and the vacancy created by that declination has not been filled.

Jung Still Critical But Is Improving

The condition of Frank Jung, 26, of Hicksville, L. I., who was injured in the crash of a light two-seater Piper Cub June 13 at Kingston Airport, was reported "critical but satisfactory" today at Albany Hospital.

Mr. Jung, who was severely injured in the crash which took the life of Kenneth O. Pratt, 40, 14 Smith avenue, has been on the critical list since the accident.

Earlier this week Mr. Jung was reported to be "definitely improving."

The plane owned by Mr. Jung, crashed from about 250 feet a few seconds after takeoff, apparently attempting to make a left turn back to the field when it developed motor trouble.

Ike Out of Room

White House—a session at which, Hagerty said, in answer to questions, there was no discussion of politics.

The six army surgeons who have taken turns staying in the President's room around the clock were relieved of that duty late yesterday—a step which Hagerty characterized as further indication Eisenhower's recovery was proceeding "very satisfactorily."

This morning's medical bultin, issued at 8:10 a. m. EDT, was in line with Hagerty's summation.

It said:

"The President had a good night's rest. He slept almost continuously for 7½ hours.

"His temperature is 98.2, his pulse is 70, his blood pressure is 116 over 76, his respiration is 18—all of which are normal. His weight before breakfast was 162 pounds.

"His condition continues to progress satisfactorily. His spirits and morale are high."

Eisenhower designated Vice President Nixon to preside—as Nixon has done at various times in the past—at a cabinet meeting at the White House today. (9 a. m. EDT).

Steelworkers

Three" are scheduled to resume this afternoon (2 p. m., EDT). McDonald is scheduled to meet with the teams' chairmen and secretaries sometime prior to the negotiation talks.

The union has asked for an unspecified but "substantial" wage raise, a 52-week layoff pay plan, time-and-a-half for Saturday work, double pay for Sunday work, an insurance program to be borne entirely by the companies, and other benefits.

THE COMPANIES have offered a 52-week layoff pay plan, 4 per cent premium pay for Sunday work, and various other benefits, but no premium pay for Saturday work.

But union and management mainly are deadlocked over the "Big Three" proffer of a five-year, no-strike contract.

The steelworkers contend the contract term is too long.

The companies estimate their proposal would mean an average pay increase of 7.3 cents an hour in each of the five years. McDonald says it would amount to "only a nickel" in take-home pay.

Present industry wages average $2.46 per hour.

Federal mediators have been keeping in touch with the situation but have made no immediate move to intervene.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 21 (AP)—The stock market shook off its recent lethargy and stepped ahead for a fair gain in early afternoon today.

Leading stocks went ahead from fractions to around 2 points in moderately active trading.

The market was a little higher from the start, then gathered speed. Prices were about at their best in mid-morning, then slackened a bit, still leaving a good display of gain.

Taxpayers Say Federal School Aid Bad Deal

Albany, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—A statewide taxpayers organization declared today that the federal school aid bill approved yesterday by the House Rules committee was "a horrible deal for New York taxpayers."

The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc. said that, under terms of the bill, the state would get $32,238,000 a year in federal aid but that New York taxpayers would have to pay $49,360,000 annually in federal taxes to support the program.

That would be an annual "tax loss" to New York state of $17,122,000, the survey asserted. Out of every $1 the New York taxpayers sent to Washington to pay for the program, the group continued, 65 cents would return to the state and 35 cents would go to other states.

The organization said that by contrast West Virginia would get back $1.77, South Dakota, $1.39, and Maine $1.34 for every $1 they paid to support the program.

Leaves for Mexico

New York, June 21 (AP)—Former Mayor William O'Dwyer left Idlewild Airport aboard an American Airlines plane for Mexico City after a 10-day visit in New York. When asked if he had formed an opinion on this year's political campaign, O'Dwyer replied: "I'm out of politics and I'm staying out." He said he probably would return here late next month.

Lord and Mayor Forgive

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—A Pennsylvania resident, worried about parking overtime in Knoxville 25 years ago, got a word of encouragement from Knoxville Mayor Jack Dance. 'I guess I have been under conviction and the Lord wants me to settle up," wrote the Blandburg, Pa., man. "I am sorry for that. Fine me or forgive me, whatever the Lord wants you to do." Dance replied: "The city has long since forgotten, and I feel sure the Lord will forgive."

Learn Hawaiian Secret Of Pineapple Sherbet

THE LUSH TROPICS come into being on your dining table when you create this de luxe version of pineapple sherbet.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Mrs. Jean Clark of Honolulu, warm-hearted and hospitable always, visited our home recently. We talked enthusiastically about beautiful Hawaii. She gave us these two cooling and calorie-restrained recipes—the kind, she said, people in the islands always welcome.

Aloha Sherbet
(Makes 8 ½-cup servings)
(Calorie Count: 169 calories per serving)

One cup drained canned crushed pineapple, 1/3 cup orange concentrate, 1 cup light corn syrup, 1/3 cup water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/3 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder.

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Combine pineapple and orange concentrate. Stir in corn syrup. Pour mixture into refrigerator tray. Freeze until firm. Combine water and lemon juice in deep 1 quart bowl. Sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder over surface. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer 8 to 10 minutes or until stiff enough to hold peaks. Beat pineapple mixture until smooth. Fold in whipped nonfat dry milk. Return to freezing tray. Freeze until firm, about 4 to 5 hours.

Special serving note: For gala occasions, split a fresh pineapple in half, retaining the leaves with each half. Carefully remove the center of one-half of the pineapple, cutting into slender sticks. Fill the cavity of pineapple half with Aloha Sherbet. Garnish with reserved sticks and maraschino cherries or fresh fruit in season.

Frosty Grape Dessert
(Makes 8 ½-cup servings)
(Calorie count: 92 calories per serving)

One cup water, ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup grape juice, chilled, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, chilled.

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Combine water, instant nonfat dry milk powder and sugar in small saucepan. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Chill. Pour a small amount of the combined grape and lemon juices into nonfat dry milk mixture; beat with a rotary beater, adding remainder of juice gradually. Pour into refrigerator tray. Freeze to a mush. Remove mixture to chilled bowl. Beat with a rotary beater until smooth, but not melted. Return to refrigerator tray. Freeze until firm, about 4 hours.

40 Airlines Get Safety Awards

Chicago, June 21 (AP)—The National Safety Council today named 40 scheduled airlines as winners of its "Award of Honor" for operating throughout 1955 without a fatal air accident.

At the same time the Aircoach Transport Assn. (ACTA) reported in Washington that 36 independent or nonscheduled airlines also had operated throughout 1955 without a fatality to passengers or crew.

From Civil Aeronautics Board records, the Safety Council tabulated seven fatal accidents in domestic scheduled operations during 1955, and one in international operations. Its total did not include the sabotage of an airliner near Longmont, Colo., last Nov. 1, which brought death to 44 persons.

The seven fatal accidents in domestic scheduled operations last year cost the lives of 156 passengers and 21 crew members. The international flight listed caused the death of two passengers and two crew members.

Missing from the award list were six major airlines—American, Braniff, Eastern, Pan American, TWA and United—which experienced fatal accidents in 1955.

Three nonscheduled airlines had fatal accidents and failed to make the "perfect" list. They were Peninsular Air Transport of Miami, Capitol Airways of Nashville, and Currey Air Transport of Burbank, Calif. A. J. Rome, ACTA president, said that only the Peninsular accident involved passenger fatalities.

Citizen Group Leader Urges Private Power

Albany, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Garth A. Shoemaker, president of the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey Inc., has told New York congressmen that defeat of a municipal power plan this week is an indication of the people's opinion on public vs. private power.

On Tuesday, voters of Ogdensburg rejected by a vote of 2,694 to 1,730 a city council proposal that the city go into the electric power business.

Shoemaker said in a message sent yesterday to the New York congressional delegation that the Ogdensburg voters "saw through the delusion of cheap public power."

He urged the legislators to work for development of Niagara power by private business.

A bill that would authorize the State Power Authority to develop Niagara power has passed the Senate and is now in a House committee.

Shoemaker said that the Ogdensburg vote "shows why proponents of public power development at Niagara have not dared agree to a state-wide vote."

Mahoney Hits Appeasement

Glen Cove, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Walter J. Mahoney, Republican majority leader of the state Senate, has criticized what he termed "a tendency toward compromise and appeasement" in his own party.

He said at a GOP dinner last night that the party had failed in many instances to avail itself of the "political benefits of our victory" after it had taken control of the state administration.

Mahoney said the Democrats, on the other hand, had worked "every political trick" they could devise on the GOP and the people of the state.

The majority leader said he found some Republicans to be "naive" in thinking that they would "out-maneuver and outguess (Democrats) in a shell game at which our opponents are past masters."

Mahoney said there was "a decided trend toward me-tooism" in the GOP and that he had observed "with some alarm" a tendency" to make conciliation a political expedient and imitation a political apparatus."

He did not go into detail on any of the tendencies which he said existed.

Mahoney spoke at a testimonial dinner for H. Bogart Seaman, chairman of the Glen Cove Republic city committee.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Local Riders Will Be in Troy Show

Woodstock, June 21—Among the entries of the 10th annual Woodstock Horse Show, held Sunday at the Woodstock Riding Club's Ohayo Mt. ring, were a large group of members of St. Jude's Horse Show Association, Troy. It is expected that many members of the Woodstock Riding Club will in turn enter the St. Jude's Horse Show to be held on July 6, 7 and 8.

The Rev. Thomas P. Tooher, pastor of St. Jude's Church Wynantskill, Troy, and president of the St. Jupde's Horse Show Association, has announced that prize lists for the fourth annual show are in the mail. They were also made available to entries of last Sunday's Woodstock show. Held yearly for the benefit of the school building fund, the St. Jude Show is expected to play to 10,000 persons this year making it the largest outdoor show in the state and one of the most important shows in the northeast. Licensed under the auspices of the American Horse Show Association, St. Jude's will have 15 divisions with a total class list of 100 events. Divisions will include "A" rating in jumper and Morgan Horses, "B" in Arabians and "C" in all others. These will include the equitation divisions, hunters, three-gaited and five-gaited saddle horses, walking horses, hackney ponies, palomino and pony fancy turnout as well as some miscellaneous classes such as open parade horse, open trail horse and the lead line.

Church Notes

Woodstock, June 20—The sermon topic for the churches of the Woodstock Methodist Parish for Sunday, June 24, will be "Vision in Spite of Blindness." This is a biographical sermon based on the inspiring life of Louis Braille. A Children's Day program will be presented at the Woodstock church by the pupils of the church school during the regular worship hour.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will not meet Friday evening for its regular meeting. They will take part in an outing sponsored by the youth of the Kingston Sub-District on Saturday, June 23. The young people will leave from the Wittenberg Youth Center at 9 a. m. for Belleayre. They will enjoy directed recreation and mountain climbing. Each person is asked to bring a boxed lunch.

The everpresent power of Christian healing will be brought out at the Woodstock Christian Science Church service Sunday, June 24.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" will include Christ Jesus' instruction to his disciples (Luke 10:9): "And heal the sick that are herein, and say unto them, the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, is the following (98:15): "Beyond the frail premises of human beliefs, above the loosening grasp of creeds, the demonstration of Christian mind-healing stands a revealed and practical science. It is imperious throughout all ages as Christ's revelation of truth, of life and of love, which remains inviolate for every man to understand and to practise."

Village Briefs

Woodstock, June 20—The Art Students League of New York will hold an exhibition of works by artists who are residents of Woodstock and have been associated with the Art Students League at The Art Students League, Woodstock, opening Sunday, July 1.

Home Prices

Nearly 450,000 homes out of the 1,300,000 total built last year, were produced to sell for less than $12,000, says Joseph B. Haverstick, president of the National Assn. of Home Builders.

DINNER FOR TWO—Opera and concert soprano Charlene Chapman shares a tidbit with Musetta, a pet ocelot, in her Poundridge, N. Y., home. Musetta, named for a character in "La Boheme," is one of a small zoo in Charlene's home. She owns five other animals: a boxer dog, a macaw, a cheetah, a monkey and a kinkajou.

Compensation to Drop 20 Million: Harriman

Albany, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has announced that the cost of workmen's compensation to New York employers will drop 20 million dollars a year beginning July 1.

He said this eight per cent drop, plus a 41-million-dollar reduction last year, add up to "a real and direct benefit to employers of this state in their struggle to keep down the costs of doing business."

The Governor told a news conference yesterday, however, that he was concerned because the cost of workmen's compensation in New York was still higher than in many other states.

He said the latest reduction had been made possible by "increasing efficiency and reducing overhead."

The Governor gave credit to insurance superintendent Leffert Holz and to Joseph Callahan, chairman of the Moreland Act Commission that has been investigating compensation costs.

Harriman said Holz and Callahan had "indicated that there are other avenues which, it is believed, will, after further study, enable further savings to be effected.

Lutherans Plan More Churches, Larger Schools

St. Paul, Minn., June 21 (AP)—The mission-minded Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church grappled today with a major manpower shortage in its ranks of ministers and teachers.

The two-million member synod, holding its triennial convention here, has set its sights on establishing 135 new churches annually instead of the present 120.

ALSO CLOSE to the hearts of synod leaders is the goal of enrolling 50 per cent of the synod's children in its parochial schools. The figure now is 37 per cent, one of the highest in Lutheranism.

Delegates underlined their concern over the manpower problem yesterday by approving the principle of assigning no full-time minister to congregations with less than 100 baptized members. The smaller congregations would be served by pastors of larger groups.

The synod also pushed through a resolution calling for creation of a committee to screen congregation requests for full-time ministers. Until now, the synod's assignment board has assumed that whenever a minister is requested, an urgent need is there.

SYNOD COMMITTEES today began exploring a wide range of manpower needs with the idea of forging an overall program during the next 10 days to satisfy pulpit and classroom demands through 1970.

The manpower shortage was one of the few major agenda points on which there was no controversy.

Three others, touched on by Dr. John W. Behnken of St. Louis in his presidential address yesterday, were headed for the convention floor today.

ONE WAS A REVIEW of the synod's declaration of doctrine, embodied in the so-called "common confession." It has been attacked as inadequate by the Norwegian and Wisconsin Synods, who, like the Missouri group, are members of the Lutheran Synodical Conference.

Dr. Behnken, renominated yesterday for a 23rd year as president and up for re-election today unless he decides to withdraw, defended the Missouri's doctrinal position, called it "'pure" and urged delegates not to compromise it.

While synod leaders were confident the doctrine itself would go unchanged in convention here, they admitted the theory of the "common confession" is now a dead issue.

THE TERM STEMS from a joint agreement by the Missouri Synod and the American Lutheran Church to observe a common doctrine. The ALC however, is in the process of merging with the Evangelical Lutheran Church and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The convention also was ready to consider an offer to the synod to join the Lutheran World Federation, and another by the joint Augustana Synod and the United Lutheran Church in America to consider "organic union."

They were not expected to survive committee action.

RACE CREW RESCUED—Eight crew members of the 46-foot cutter Elda, which went aground and sank June 20, during the Newport, R. I.-Bermuda Yacht Race, smile happily in life raft as it is hauled alongside the Sea Wolfe, a news bureau press boat, after rescue near Hamilton, Bermuda. The Elda is owned by Henry A. Wise, Jr., of Wilmington, Del., and the craft's home port was listed as Gibson Island, Md. The last serious accident in the Bermuda race was in 1932 when the schooner Adriana burned and went down with Clarence Kozlay. Identification of crewmen not available. (AP Wirephoto)

DIG THAT COO-O-O-L MUSIC—Man, those crazy cats are hot stuff with that cool beat they're banging out. They're the "Dukes of Dixieland," a jazz band playing in Chicago. As temperatures soared into the 90's the Dukes gave out with some rock in Lake Michigan's roll.

Changes Plea

Elizabeth, N. J., June 21 (AP)—Called to the stand unexpectedly in the murder trial of her husband, a housewife turned surprise witness yesterday and accused him of violently slapping their 6-week-old son before the child died. Mrs. Alice Kordyla, 22, was called from the audience by the attorney defending her husband. Earlier, she had refused to testify against him as a state witness. Her stunned husband, 27-year-old Gregory Kurdyla, left the court room for a conference with his lawyer. They returned a few minutes later and Kurdyla changed his plea from innocent to no defense to the charge of murder in the death of the infant, Gregory, last March 11. Union County Judge Milton A. Feller ended the three-day trial and set July 31 for sentencing.

Meet 51st Time

Geneva, Switzerland, June 21 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson met with Wang Ping-nan, Communist ambassador, for nearly two hours today in the 51st meeting of their long and secret negotiations over American civilians held in China. Since the last meeting, the Peiping government has announced the release of two San Francisco priests, but what effect this had on today's discussions, if any, was not disclosed. Eleven Americans still are imprisoned in China. The next meeting will be held June 28.

Giant jaws of the Berger crane at Crown Zellerbach's Camas, Washington paper mill pick up 50 tons of logs at one bite.

It takes a GIANT to do the job

Whether the job be picking up fifty tons of logs or picking up more and more customers, you need the powerful services of a giant. In the world of selling you need the newspaper—the giant who lives in every town.

Each day more than 56,000,000 newspapers are bought by people in big cities, middle-sized towns and crossroad hamlets. The newspaper reaches deep into America's markets, influencing your every possible prospect.

Wide-awake retailers, wholesalers and distributors know and use the powerful selling punch delivered by their daily newspapers. And they know, also, that nothing gives a bigger boost to the products they sell than to have the manufacturer's ads backing up their own in the same newspapers.

Whatever you sell, wherever you sell, you need a giant to help you. That giant is the newspaper. Put it on the job. Keep it on the job.

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Error Leads To Spade Run

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South managed to go down fairly quickly in today's hand. Can you spot his error?

East won the first trick with the king of spades and returned the ten. South covered with the queen, but West played low. South next led the ten of diamonds and finessed. East won with the king and led his last spade, whereupon West defeated the contract with the rest of the spades.

You've spotted the error, of course. South must not cover the ten of spades at the second trick

If East is allowed to win the second trick, he leads his remaining spade. South must play high this time, and West takes the ace. Now the defenders are limited to their three spades and one diamond trick. South has tricks to burn.

South shouldn't really have much trouble seeing this point. He can afford to lose one diamond and only three spades. He must take precautions against losing four spades. The way to do so is to hold up his own spade trick long enough to cut the communications between East and West. By the time East gets a diamond trick he has no more spades to lead.

Baptists Told West Will Lead Way to Union

Seattle, June 21 (AP)—Baptists should look to the West for the spark to ignite the flame of union between Southern and American (northern) Baptist conventions, 200 American Baptist ministers were told yesterday.

Dr. Duke McCall, president of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., predicted the West would be the source of union. He said this would be because it is in the West where the two groups overlap and interact, providing the basis for organic union.

Dr. McCall told national ABC delegates in an earlier address that the church must concentrate on winning the nation for Christ—and unity would be its by-product.

He said he hoped to see the differences between the groups "dissolved by good will and friendship activated by the truth of God's revelation."

Final Saugerties School Meeting Is at West Camp

Residents of West Camp, Asbury and Malden are urged to attend a special open meeting to be held Friday at 8 p. m., in West Camp parish hall to hear a presentatition of facts about the school bond issue, according to Miss A. Frances Larned, chairman of the publicity committee of the school building program.

This will be the last in the series of meetings held in the village and throughout the Saugerties Central School District to inform the public as to the plans regarding the building program and the $3,475,000 bond issue to come before the voters June 29.

Through the use of slides, floor plans and plot plans, colored sketches of the proposed junior-senior high school and of the Mount Marion Elementary School, and general discussion the proposed building program will be described.

Miss Grace Anderson, chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Group, will be in charge of this portion of the program.

John Lowther, Board of Education member will discuss the proposed budget for the school district for the next six years, the tax rates for the various parts of the school district, and the cost of building the two new schools and reconstructing two schools. Any question that the voters may have concerning the bond issue will be answered at this meeting.

State to Make Probe Of School Dissension

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—The president of the Saratoga Springs Board of Education says that the State Education Department has agreed to "make a study" of reported conflicts among school administrators and teachers here.

Mrs. Mary H. Kmen said yesterday that education commissioner James H. Allen had stated emphatically than any action that the department took was "not to be considered an investigation."

Claude Van Wie, Superintendent of Schools, had asked that an investigation be conducted before the high school graduation this month.

Mrs. Kmen said, however, that she had been advised that "no action would be taken until July at the earliest."

Rains Not Enough

Bethany, Mo., June 21 (AP)—Good, soaking rains came to northwest Missouri's drouth belt yesterday but farmers said it wasn't enough and Mayor Raymond K. Wheeler of Bethany said "it didn't do a thing for us here in town." Bethany has been pinched for water for months. Yesterday's rain—almost two inches here by some measurements but only 1.09 on the Weather Bureau gauge—didn't lift the level of the town's reservoir appreciably. Mayor Wheeler said it held no more than enough for three days.

Children's Day Set at Methodist Area Churches

Children's Day will be observed at the regular Sunday worship services of Ashokan, West Hurley and Glenford Methodist Churches at 9:30 and 10:45 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., respectively.

The Rev. Richard R. Guice, pastor will participate in all the services briefly and in the Ashokan Church, he will preach the children's sermon.

METHODIST youth fellowship will participate with the Sub-District MYF in an all-day outing at Belleayre Mountain, on Saturday. Seniors in the MYF will meet at 7 p. m. Sunday in the West Hurley Church.

Their program will continue the theme of recreation. This week's topic "Recreation for Youth" focuses on the idea of recreation as a dedication to God. The intermediates in the MYF will continue their study of nature. The topic for the evening is "Secrets to Share." Alton Stoutenburg will lead the youth through near-by weeds to examine God's creation at first hand.

The midweek prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Glenford Church. This is a cooperative meeting for all three churches. In the absence of the minister, Mrs. Arthur Gary will be the leader. As a part of this meeting Psalm 46 will be studied.

The Ashokan Church is also planning for a vacation church school for children in the communities, aged 3 to 14.

Report in Form

Jackson, N. C. (AP)—In a decade or so the Northampton county clerk of court will be needing a new supply of forms on which to issue capiases ad testificandum. Back in 1887, about 1,000 copies of the forms were printed. The clerk issued one in April of this year, leaving six on hand. The form issued in April was the first one the clerk had needed in 10 years. A capias ad testificandum is an order for a person to appear in court and testify.

'Pray for Peace' Dies To Cancel Stamps

Washington, June 21 (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield said today his department is moving promptly to supply some 10,000 first and second class post offices with special dies to permit cancellation of stamps with the slogan "Pray for Peace."

His announcement followed the action of President Eisenhower yesterday in signing into law a bill providing for such cancellations in the larger post offices. The Postmaster General said in a statement:

"This motto 'Pray for Peace' epitomizes the highest aspirations of the American people. I believe that by repeating this message on millions of letters and other mailed matter passing through the cancellation machines, we will reaffirm our faith in prayer to achieve the nation's most cherished hope—everlasting world peace."

Can't Live in Cabins

Cornwall, Ont., June 21 (AP)—Cottages on nearby Sheek Island, in the St. Lawrence river, have been given a nine-month reprieve but their owners won't be allowed to live in them this summer. The Federal Transport Department had ordered owners to move their summer homes off the government-owned island by yesterday because of blasting being done nearby on the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project.

MGM to Release Films for Video

Hollywood, June 21 (AP)—Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio has announced plans for a full scale invasion of television.

Some 770 feature films, covering the studio's output from the advent of talking pictures to 1949, will be made available for TV through a distribution organization set up by the studio itself, officials said yesterday.

In addition, some 900 short films will be released for television and the studio will produce new material especially for the home viewing audience. MGM also plans to acquire ownership interests in TV stations.

The scope of MGM's plans for embracing television caught Hollywood by surprise. Although other major studios have dabbled in TV and many films have been sold for re-issue on television, veteran movie makers still tend to look on the new medium as an enemy.

A Fine Thing!

Cadiz, Ohio (AP)—A mistake cost Donald Johnson and Albert Prevost fines of $200 and costs each. Police said the two stole five gallons of fuel for their car from a coal company. As they left, the car stalled and they were arrested. The mistake: They stole diesel oil instead of gasoline.

Plans on Extending Brainwash Hearings

Washington, June 21 (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today he plans at least two more days of hearing on Communist brainwashing of U. S. troops captured in Korea.

His Senate investigations subcommittee recessed the inquiry yesterday.

McClellan said the group will take testimony next week, perhaps Tuesday and Wednesday, on the reportedly stiff brainwashing to which captured members of the Air Force and other services were subjected.

Dr. Julius Segal of Silver Spring, Md., a civilian psychologist in a special army research project, said yesterday about 10 per cent of the 3,323 soldiers who were captured and later repatriated "informed on fellow POW's at least once."

Another witness, Maj. Clarence L. Anderson, an army doctor who survived 34 months of captivity, said he doubted the accuracy of Segal's estimate.

Bar to Honor Editor

Saranac Inn, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Seymour Marks, city editor of the Long Island Daily Press, will receive the first annual press award of the New York State Bar Assn. The $250 prize will be presented to him Saturday night at a dinner ending a three-day meeting of the association. The association said the award is for "his constructive contribution to the administration of justice." Marks wrote a series of articles last year on court problems in Queens county. He was then a staff writer for the paper.

Good Taste Today

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

WHEN THE WEATHER IS HOT

The following letter is from a man: "I mind the heat very much and when I get home in the evening I can't wait to take off my jacket and make myself comfortable. Should guests drop in in the evening to see us, my wife insists that I put my jacket on. She says it is not good manners to sit in my shirt sleeves in the presence of visitors. To me having to put on a jacket in one's own house when the temperature is in the mid-nineties is carrying good manners to a ridiculous extreme. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

In your own house, when the temperature is very high, you certainly do not have to put on your coat—especially if you are wearing a short-sleeved sport shirt. It would be polite to ask your guests to remove their jackets.

Acknowledging Wedding Presents

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married in a few weeks and when I ordered my wedding invitations I also ordered some fold-over cards which seemed just right to me for acknowledging my wedding presents. I had them engraved Mr. and Mrs. John Jones. I have just been told that these cards are not correct for acknowledging wedding presents. Will you please advise me?

Answer: You cannot use these cards before your marriage. But as soon as you are Mrs. John Jones it would be quite all right to use them for acknowledging wedding presents.

Is Return Necessary?

Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to a house party in honor of a house guest, are we expected to invite the house guest and her hosts in return?

Answer: There is no obligation, but is is a very pleasing thing to do if you can—especially if the guest is staying with one of your own best friends.

19,064 Released In East Germany

Berlin, June 21 (AP)—East Germany's Communist rulers announced today they have freed 19,064 prisoners, most of them held for political crimes. At the same time the Reds opened a new and violent attack on the woman who put many of the prisoners behind bars, "Red Hilde" Benjamin.

THE BLAST at 54-year-old Mrs. Benjamin, the grim-faced, heavy-set minister of justice, was the strongest so far from within the party. It could foreshadow a purge of the top woman in the East German government.

Mrs. Benjamin and Prosecutor General Ernst Melsheimer were accused of unjustified arrests, illegal activity against the people and too ruthless administration of justice.

THE ATTACK was lodged by a special "rehabilitation" commission named by the party's central committee to review cases of purged party members. The commission's report was given front-page publication in the official party newspaper, Neues Deutschland, and was also distributed by the government news agency, ADN.

Mrs. Benjamin first came under attack last March at the third party conference. Premier Otta Grotewohl accused her justice ministry of illegal activity and ordered it to "safeguard the rights of citizens" through closer control over the courts.

The Red regime said it had freed so many prisoners in recent months as a demonstration of its strength and its will to reunify divided Germany.

180 New Polio Cases

Washington, June 21 (AP)—The Public Health Service today said 180 new polio cases were reported last week, only four more than the preceding week. "The increase was not as much as could have been expected during this period of seasonal rise," a health service spokesman said. However, he again declined comment on whether the relatively low level of cases reflects use of Salk polio vaccine. Nor would he discuss the future outlook, recalling that the big spurt in the 1952 record year did not start until July.

Miller Is Subpoenaed

Washington, June 21 (AP) — Playwright Arthur Miller was subpoenaed to talk about passport matters today before the House Committee on Un-American activities. The committee said Miller's application for a passport in 1954 was turned down by the State Department on the grounds that his travel abroad would not be in the best interests of the United States. Miller at that time wanted to go to Belgium to attend a performance of his play, "The Crucible."

Awards were presented to Bernard Feeney who has served as chairman of the Disaster Preparedness and Relief Committee since July 1952. Under his chairmanship several disasters have been handled including the Williams Lake hotel fire in 1953, the last August and October floods and several minor disasters and fires. He has served as a member of the chapter's board of directors and in 1952 and 1953 was an active member of the Fund Planning committee. The second award went to Richard Riseley who has served as a member of the Disaster committee since 1950 as survey chairman and co-chairman. Riseley has seen the chapter through all major disasters since 1950 including the flood that year, Williams Lake hotel fire in 1953, the August and October floods of 1955 and the Stuyvesant Hotel fire last April. Each of these disaster areas were visited shortly after disaster struck and immediate surveys made to determine the extent and effect of the damage so that adequate aid could be administered. He also served as chapter co-chairman of the 12th ward in the 1955 membership and fund campaign.

The awards were presented by Mrs. William T. Fuller, vice-chairman, on behalf of the Chapter and the National organization.

The 1956 fund and membership campaign report was presented showing that the original goal of $32,038 had been reached but just before the campaign heavy disaster demands required that quota to be raised to $36,259. The total funds raised to date amounts to $32,495.72. James A. Hanstein was general chairman.

Mrs. Merrill announced the following committees for 1956-57:

Predicts Business Decline Last of '56

Albany, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—The vice president of the New York Telephone Co. predicted today that there would be "a slight decline" in business activity in New York State during the latter part of 1956.

Burton R. Young made this forecast at a Public Service Commission hearing on the Telephone Company's request for a $15,753,000 yearly increase in rates.

The hearing moved into its closing stages today as Leo Larkin, assistant corporation counsel of New York city, began cross-examination of witnesses. The city opposes any increase.

New York Telephone proposes to raise monthly rates on party and rural lines by 10 cents, on private lines by 25 cents and on business telephones by 50 cents. It says it needs additional revenue to offset employe wage increases and other additional expenses.

House May Vote Next Week on Aid to Schools

Washington, June 21 (AP)—The way was open today for the House to vote, probably next week, on a four-year federal aid school construction program amounting to $1,600,000,000.

The legislation cleared the House Rules Committee yesterday by an 8-3 vote. It had been bottled up there for several months because of the effect it might have on public school segregation.

Southerners on the committee have opposed the bill for one reason: Rep. Powell (D-N. Y.) has said he will propose an amendment on the House floor that would forbid federal grants to schools which maintain segregation.

garland and 23 plastic illuminated white stars.

The cost of the plastic stars, wire, bulbs, sockets and garland will be additional to the electrical contract bid.

He estimated that the cost of annual maintenance and installation prior to the Christmas season would be about $300, including insurance.

President Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., announced that a special finance committee would be appointed to conduct a campaign to raise the funds required for the program.

President Reynolds pointed out that in previous years the Chamber was asked to raise about $2,000 just to pay for rental of the Yule lights for the business district. This year area businessmen and interested individuals will be asked for increased donations to pay for the initial cost of the project.

The lights will belong to the community and only a small amount will have to be raised each year to cover maintenance costs, he said. In view of the small amount required, it may be possible for the Chamber to absorb the costs of annual installation and maintenance, Reynolds said.

The membership voted to continue the practice of giving a cash award to the boy and girl graduating from Saugerties Central High School, whose conduct in and out of school during the year best typifies the American school boy or girl.

Two new members were welcomed at the opening of the meeting. They are: Charles Fous of Western Auto Stores and Joseph Bosco of Joseph's Beauty Salon. Both are newly established businesses in the shopping district.

Mrs. Irene Roming, second vice president and chairman of the Miss Saugerties Pageant, conducted by the Chamber, presented her final report on the project.

President Reynolds as special representative to the Village Board of Trustees reported that he appeared before the board Monday night and presented the Chamber's proposal for house numbering in the village. He said that the general reaction of the board was favorable and that village authorities would investigate the matter further with the Post Office authorities.

It was reported that the Chamber would sponsor two cars in the annual Fourth of July parade, one with Miss Saugerties of 1956 and her two attendents and the other with Chamber officials.

SUNSET GUARD—Sun of British empire has set for perhaps the last time in Egypt, and Egyptian military police guard at Ismalia, headquarters of the Suez Canal area, is symbolic of the change. When they mounted guard in 1955 as Egypt took control of the vital waterway it marked beginning of the end of 155 years of British influence in Egypt and 74 years of stewardship over the Suez. There was no ceremony as the last garrison—91 men—left the grounds of Navy House at Port Said on June 13.

Dewey Influence

case. A Republican source says the chairman has won promises from many delegates that they will adopt a unit rule on voting—that is as, the majority votes, so go the entire 96 votes. Dewey could be expected to whip a majority into line with his thinking.

Up to this point, the former governor has been warm in praise of Vice President Nixon, whom he supported for a place on the ticket in 1952. But would Dewey support Nixon for President? That question could be answered with finality only at the convention.

PROMINENT Republicans generally will tell you that Dewey has kept a hands-off policy toward most state affairs since he left office. For example, he has been content to let the GOP-controlled Legislature fight its own battles with Gov. Harriman's Democratic state administration.

But Dewey has reserved his influence in federal patronage matters. And, while he plays no day-by-day role in the state's political life, he is wont to move in on more important things—such as molding the convention delegation.

It is expected that he will make his choice heard also in selection next fall of a Republican candidate to try for the U. S. Senate seat held by Democrat Herbert Lehman.

British Soldier Slain

Nicosia, Cyprus, June 21 (AP)—A British soldier was shot down in bright summer sunshine in Larnaca today. First reports indicated the shot was fired from ambush as a patrol vehicle drove through the city. The killing brought to 40 the number of British servicemen slain by bullets or bomb since the Eoka guerrilla organization began its campaign of violence in April last year. In addition, 20 British soldiers perished in a forest fire which swept over troops searching for Eoka leaders in the Troodos Mountains.

Tito Reports on Visit

London, June 21 (AP) — President Tito said today he and the leaders of the Soviet Union have "abandoned all that was bad between us," the Moscow radio reported. The Yugoslav leader spoke on his arrival at Kiev en route home after a triumphant three-week visit to the Soviet Union in which he and the Kremlin bosses agreed to cooperate in the future on the basis of complete equality.

Defense Rests Case In Ticket Fix Talks

Mineola, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Attorneys for Suffolk county Justice of the Peace Moses Drake rested his defense against ticket fixing charges yesterday without calling him to testify in his own behalf.

The Islip judge is the first of five to face judicial hearings on fitness for office.

The hearings, conducted by official referee Frank F. Adel, were ordered by the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court on information supplied by State Investigations Commissioner J. Irwin Shapiro.

At yesterday's hearing several Suffolk county Republican leaders admitted interceding with Judge Drake on behalf of traffic violators.

Among them were county Republican Chairman R. Ford Hughes, County Committeeman Gordon Taylor, acting Police Chief Ben Gaiser of Islip and Chief Investigator A. Russell Richards of the Suffolk District Attorney's office.

Richards admitted interceding with Drake in behalf of Nathaniel Schackman, Farmingdale attorney, who was allowed to plead guilty to "standing on the highway charges" after being ticketed for speeding.

"As an officer of the law," admonished Adel, "you should have run as fast as you could" from altering charges.

Richards conceded that his action was "unusual."

"It would have been more appropriate," he added, "if he had been found guilty of failing to keep to the right."

Mollet Policies Backed

Paris, June 21 (AP) — The French National Assembly today gave Premier Guy Mollet three new votes of confidence in approving for the third time the government's plan to raise old age payments. The bill has been turned down twice by the Senate, or Council of the Republic, which now will have to consider it again. The Senate's action must be completed by midnight tomorrow. If it rejects or revises the Assembly's bill again, the deputies will have to consider it once more. A fourth passage by the Assembly would make the bill a law.

Argument Lasts 3 Hours on Traffic is reversal of the traffic flow on some streets or permitting two-way traffic on North Front street, or reversing traffic there, would not be conducive to the best flow of traffic in the congested area.

MURPHY MADE it clear, at one point in the hearing, that he was not there as an advocate of adoption of the plan, as one speaker appeared to believe, but was there to explain details of the plan as it was designed.

Alderman George F. McCardle, 13th ward, as chairman of the council's traffic control committee, conducted the hearing, and argument was stenotyped by Harry C. Seitz, former deputy city clerk. Aldermen James K. Ryan, 10th ward, and George P. Norton Jr., sixth ward, the other members of the committee, and other councilmen also attended.

A CHAMBER of Commerce post card survey in which it was claimed that 72 per cent of those replying favored the test plan, was cited, and Louis W. Kaye, of the Kaye Sportwair, North Front street, noted that the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association voted 57-40 against the traffic pattern as it now exists.

Kaye was the first called upon to speak, and he noted that the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association, formed many years ago, was one of the older of its kind in the state. It has always been its purpose, he said, to better the community.

WITHOUT ITS influence, he held, the city would not have had the Governor Clinton Hotel, and he reported that the association had "spent thousands of dollars" toward development of uptown parking.

The 57-40 vote against the present one-way pattern, he said, was the result of a questionnaire sent out as agreed upon at an association meeting. This result, he indicated, did not mean that the merchants were against a one-way pattern, but was more to the effect that they are opposed to the pattern as it now stands.

James D. Devine, of 164 Washington avenue, the next speaker, said the people of the 12th ward would like to know whether they would be subject to special assessment if such narrow streets as Pearl and Main were widened in the event of adoption of the one-way system.

Edward Franz, of the City Garage, indicated that he was one member of the Chamber of Commerce, who did favor a one-way system, but not as it is working now. He felt it was now more conducive to mishap than the former two-way system, and noted that in one near accident, "I almost lost a $15,000 wrecker."

Franz contended that "they eliminate the left hand turn in big cities," but he said he counted 17 left turns, and only nine possible right hand turns in the present pattern.

NOW IT IS claimed, he said that the one-way system makes parking easier because one may park on either side. But, he argued, "nine out of ten times," drivers have their minds on looking for a parking place, and do not have their minds on driving.

The area involved, he argued, has the same parking places, it had 120 days ago. He disputed the claim that parking was now easier, and he wanted to know was the difficulty now due to the fact that people cannot find the business area, or was it because they could not get through as easily as they did before.

John Machione, of 23 Janet street, who talked at the June 5 council meeting in behalf of the safety of children, noted that "school will soon be out," and children will be crossing the street in the Washington avenue area to go to the park. He said he failed to see where the new system was helping business, and he felt that if it continued, "the uptown business men might just as well say goodbye."

Machione asked Murphy, the traffic expert, it it were true that only five hours of traffic congestion was presently involved, and Murphy indicated, in answering question later, that more hours were involved.

SIGNS, AS IN Utica, he said, reading "stay on main highways," would put traffic on North Front street where it belongs."

Clyde E. Wonderly, Jr., of The Wonderly Co., Inc., Wall street, as he did at the June 5 council meeting, said that the streets affected were not designed for such increased traffic as the city was experiencing.

The parking situation, he said, "was most critical." The plan was intended, he felt, to bring the greatest good for the greater number of people.

"WE ALL UNDERSTAND," he said, "that we must have a start toward progress somewhere," and he felt that the one-way test was that start. He said he could not favor the idea of penalizing the most for the minority in one area.

In order to grow, he held, "someone, somewhere, must give. If something was not done, he contended, "eventually we might have a ghost town in the uptown area." He held that the majority of the larger business men were 100 per cent for the plan which, he said, represents the studied judgement of those who are experts in the field.

Samuel Barnett, North Front street jeweler, said he had a petition signed by 1,397 persons, disfavoring the plan.

After the city, a few years ago, made North Front street wider, it now has developed, he held, that "we have a wonderful exit and no entrance."

NARROW STREETS were involved in the traffic pattern, he noted, and he held that "Mr. Murphy is interested in moving traffic out of the city, and he has done a wonderful job, but he moves none in."

"Is the city going to be a thruway?" he asked, and he observed that the oldtimers knew what North Front street was 15 years ago. After the city improved the street, he said, the business men went along, and "spent a lot of money," to improve their places of business. The Common Council, he thought, was fair in making the public hearing possible by its June 5 action.

Police Chief Raymond VanBuren said he could speak only for the police department, which, he said was 100 percent for the plan. There was less congestion generally, he said, and during Friday night rushes now, he has learned that buses move more generally on time. Taximen and others have also indicated they are in favor of the plan.

Judging by the way the city is growing, the chief said, during such congestion as the city experiences on Fridays, "some people will hardly get to the City of Kingston before the stores close."

Fire Chief James M. Brett, said it was not his intention to become involved in the controversy, but he appeared more in the sense of filing a report as requested by the traffic committee.

THE AREA UNDER discussion, he said, "is considered our highest valued area in the city." He noted that in his annual report he had suggested that Wiltwyck station and Excelsior engine house be relocated, because he felt that on shopping nights it would be impossible to route apparatus through the heavy traffic.

Winter snows added to the problem, he said, and when buses were in traffic lines, they also hampered movement of apparatus. He received notice of the one-way system in February, and then gave orders to department personnel to abide by the traffic pattern, and to make observations for future analysis.

THE DEPARTMENT set up a hypothesis, and he cited the Stuyvesant Hotel fire as an example of its being put to practice. He indicated it would have been impossible to operate as efficiently under the old two-way system, and noted that the police were more easily able to reroute traffic and firemen found a better maneuverability of apparatus.

Wiltwyck station has had 51 calls since the plan has been effective, he said, and a check with deputy chiefs, captains, and department personnel, indicated they were in favor of the plan, and so far, have found nothing at fault.

One-Way Traffic Hearing

IN THE WINTER of 1955-56, he said, it was almost impossible, at times, to get out of Wiltwyck station. He felt that there has been a heavier influx of traffic since, and was of the opinion that "if we were to return to two-way traffic, the imminent relocation of Wiltwyck station is dictated."

Stanley London, of London's Youth Center, North Front street, said "I don't think we can remind ourselves often enough of the Business men's association's vote. The majority said in effect that the traffic pattern has bugs in it and is disagreeable to business."

These, he said, are the men who have built successful businesses and are able to feel intuitively what their customers want."

AS HE DID at the June 5 meeting, he stressed the "Do Not Enter," sign on the westerly end of North Front street. He contended that nothing had been done to create more parking facilities, and that nothing had been done toward trial of suggested changes in the one-way system.

The business men feel, he indicated, that they are watching the decline of the area, and he held that it is conceivable that even traffic experts make errors. New York city is constantly making changes, he noted, to solve its traffic problems.

More and better parking, he felt, would help solve the problem, and he argued that any action for the common good, should not mean virtual isolation for any one area.

Mrs. Rose Nussbaum, of Washington avenue, opposed the plan, and suggested that instead of depending on the opinion of one traffic expert, that "other traffic experts should get together," with Murphy and devise a workable pattern.

TRAFFIC on Washington avenue, she said, was not only two-way, but the street was a virtual "speedway." Signs are ignored she said, such as those, warning "Do Not Gun Your Motor," and she felt that coming in from the Pine Hill area, it was now more difficult to get to North Front street than it was under the old system.

Mrs. Roger Baer Schwartz, of 280 Clinton avenue, spoke in favor of the plan in the vein of her letter published in Tuesday's Freeman. Of Clinton avenue, she said, "We live there, and sleep there. We feel sorry for the people of Washington avenue and Pearl street, and the others, but we have had it (heavy traffic) for a good many years."

W. Anderson Carl, of 138 Green street, argued that proponents of the one-way system are using every device to insure its adoption," and when changes are suggested they fall on deaf ears, or "they point to Mr. Murphy." Those who advocate the plan, appear to minimize objections, he said.

THE MAYOR appears to be for the plan without revision, he said. Hitting the argument that other streets such as Albany and Foxhall avenues and East Chester street, have heavy traffic he held that the fact was not due to "diversion of traffic by an ordinance of the city."

Those opposing the plan, he said are not blind to the fact that the city has a problem. Those affected by the plan, he said, do not seek sympathy, but ask that changes be considered.

Alderman Richard V. Roth, 12th ward, noted that at the June 5 meeting he offered a petition with 107 signatures against the plan, and he presented one last night with 94 signatures. He felt that the best solution would be the building of a street back of North Front street. If that were done, he felt, all would be satisfied.

ROTH SAID he felt that residents of the area must suffer all because of a few hours of traffic congestion on Friday nights, and he asked those in favor of the plan, how they would feel, if they lived in the affected area. He read a card from an unnamed person, who asked, in effect, if the aldermen should consider themselves as puppets directed by a master mind.

Joseph J. Morgan, of 121 Pearl street, said "We have been suffering from two-way traffic for years and years," and he noted that hundreds of people were involved. He said he thought Fire Chief Brett was modest in his mention of the speed with which Wiltwyck station responds to a fire call.

"It's just out of this world, he said, "and it makes no difference whether traffic is one-way or two-way."

The speaker said he felt that Fire Capt. Edwin Murphy was a victim of the system at Fair and Pearl streets."

Morgan said he had written letters to officials on this, but had received no response. He had written Alderman Roth, however, he said, and noted that he responded "most conscientiously. We're proud of Alderman Roth in the 12th ward. He said it was the first time he had taken interest in "a matter of this kind," but he held that he "could not stand by and see children risks their lives.

WE ARE HERE not to quarrel. We're here to protect the interests of people who are suffering. . . . If it is at all possible, let us have two-way traffic on North Front street." Of the aldermen, he said, "You men are doing a good job, you are our court of last resort." He then noted that in one instance, after a whole series of public hearings, the people won in a ward because "of the zeal of an alderman, who fought wth them."

Daniel Weisburg, of 36 Mountain View avenue, said the problem was one involving the entire cty. He was in favor of the plan and said he was tired of seeing unqualified persons trying to pose as traffic experts. He said he felt that other circumstances, and not the one-way traffic system alone figured in the accident in which Fire Capt. Murphy was involved.

Mr. Weisburg asked Murphy, the traffic expert, if the present plan was on an inter-city or intra-city basis, and Murphy later answered that it was on the latter basis. He also wanted to know the position of the automobile club on the city's arterial route plan, and Murphy said there was none now, but the club was usually willing, if asked, to back any plan that facilitated the flow of traffic.

Alderman William A. Davis, 11th ward, presented a petition against the system signed by 165 residents of his ward.

Attorney James C. Plunket, of 316 Washington avenue, held that the problem was only symbolic of others which the city faces. He felt that the Chamber of Commerce should not have gone on record as being in favor of the plan, at the time it did. He said he did not contend that the plan should be abolished but should be amended.

THE SPEAKER criticized those responsible for not trying the alternate plan, and asked that the people demand that parking space be quadrupled, that the viaduct be eliminated, and that routes in the city for truck traffic be put on a time schedule, and that the city move for sensible zoning to eliminate present spot zoning.

Bernie Singer, of 71-73 North Front street, said he felt that Police Chief VanBuren was wrong in his contention that the police department was 100 per cent for the plan, and he said he had reason to believe otherwise. Of the people he came in contact with, he said, they were 98 per cent in favor of two-way traffic on North Front street.

Mrs. William Hilton, of 27 John street, favored the one-way system as it now affects Clinton avenue. Under the two-way system, she said, it was impossible at times, to get across the street. Now also, she said children going to school only need to look one way for traffic.

Mrs. M. Chidister, of 250 Washington avenue, told of improvements to her property since 1922, and said she felt that under the one-way system the street would become one of business character. It seems, she said, that some are already looking to move elsewhere, because they feel that if it is to be a business street, "they might as well give up now as later."

Leonard Dessler of Clinton avenue favored one-way traffic for that street. The street was not built for two-way traffic, he said, and he felt that "more money in the cash register should not take precedence over the good of all."

M. H. Englander, of 628 Broadway, noted that the proposed arterial route plan should alleviate much of today's heavy traffic, and he thought the one-way system was "wonderful" because of the time it saves.

Milk trucks have traveled Washington avenue for years, he said, and he noted that much of the area involved, mainly the first ward was a mixture of business and residential streets. He said he would like to see the system stay until "we get the arterial route," which, he felt, "will drain off traffic from North Front street.

Helen Hahn, of 98 Washington avenue, who said she works in explosives, and must have her rest, told of an instance where heavy truck travel on Washington avenue, shook loose a new heater unit.

Jason Goumas, of 22 Hoffman street, said business at his father's store on North Front street, was off 80 per cent since the system became effective.

Samuel Barnett, returned to the floor, late in the hearing to note that the merchants had held many meetings, and while a few were very disagreeable, "We've done our best to do it in a nice clean way." He felt however, that if recommended changes were not tried," "We feel now that you should throw the whole thing out."

Mrs. Frederick Snyder, of 34 Lucas avenue, proposed that "if they want two-way traffic on North Front street, let us try it for awhile." She said she spoke as an original Kingstonian, one whose family dates back to the earliest history of the region.

Roger Baer Schwartz, of Clinton avenue, said he felt the danger to children had been carrid a bit too far. His children he said, go to No. 7 School, and then noting that a patrolman had been ordered placed near Teetsel's store on Washington avenue, he felt that "we have as much right to such protection as anyone else."

People on North Front street, he said quibble because of business reasons, and those on Washington avenue, because of trucks. On Clinton avenue, he said, people have been putting up with heavy traffic for a long time.

Car Pool Being Organized for Mt. Marion Voting

A car pool is being organized to assist in transporting Mt. Marion taxpayers to the polls in Saugerties Friday, June 29, when a vote on the proposed $3,475,000 school bond issue is scheduled.

The polls, located at the high school, will be opened from 12 noon to 10 p. m.

Announcement of the pool was made Wednesday night at the third in a series of area meetings to discuss the proposed building program of the Saugerties Central School District. The meeting, held in the Mt. Marion Reformed Church Hall, was well attended and proceeded harmoniously, it was reported.

It was reported that the audience appeared favorably impressed with the proposed building program and plans to improve the educational system of the area.

Colored slides of the proposed junior-senior high school, floor plans of each and information concerning the proposed reconstruction of the Glasco School and the Main Street School, Saugerties, were presented by Miss Grace Anderson, chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Group.

John Lowther, chairman of the finance committee of the board of education, discussed financial aspects of the program. A representative of a Syracuse architectural firm was also present to answer questions.

Two group meetings will be held tonight—one at the Glasco Elementary School, the other at the Main Street School, Saugerties. Both will be held at 8 p. m.

Commissioner Raymond L. Whitbeck, chairman of the lighting committee, for investigation.

A SEPARATE request was made by Alderman Davis to include South Washington avenue in any improved street lighting program.

Washington avenue was included in a plan drawn up by Mayor Stang about a year ago to improve street lighting on the city's "arterial routes," but South Washington avenue was not included in the original plan.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Robert Motrie, of 33 Rock street, as an engineering aide, effective July 2, 1956.

On recommendations of City Engineer Hallinan the board voted to pay contractor James Berardi $24,510.53 for curbing and paving on Lipton street and Amsterdam avenue and $2,001.75 for similar work on Pearl street, Hope street, Wilkie avenue and Ringtop road.

It was voted also to pay the Callanan Road Improvement Company $2,059.29 for the same type work on Melvin Drive and Dietz Court, and $571.20 to V. J. Costanzi for a sanitary sewer on Clifton avenue and $302.97 for a sanitary sewer on Jarvis street.

Victim of Scooter Mishap Fair Today

The condition of Clarinda M. Nappi, 18, of Corona, L. I., who was injured in a motor scooter mishap Wednesday afternoon on the Mt. Marion-Veteran road about 400 feet south of Route 212, was reported in fair condition today at Benedictine Hospital.

Miss Nappi was traveling south on a sweeping right curve with a slight downgrade when the 1952 scooter, owned by George W. Gardner of Saugerties, went off the east side of the highway and overturned, it was reported by Kingston state police.

Trooper William Shurter, who investigated, said Miss Nappi was treated by Dr. L. Nemanis of Saugerties for cerebral concussion, lacerations of the face, right arm and knee and then taken to Benedictine Hospital. The mishap occurred shortly before 2 p. m.

Fined by Brodsky

William E. Mundhenk, 56, of RD 4, Box A34, Kingston who was arrested June 3 by the Ulster county sheriff's office, was fined $25 Tuesday when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky of the town of Rosendale on a charge of reckless driving. He was arrested June 3 after a mishap on the Eddyville road. The sheriff's office reported that Mr. Mundhenk, traveling west, failed to make a right turn and struck some cement guard posts.

Dairy Interests Clash on Separate Marketing Order

Newark, N. J., June 21 (AP)—Dairy interests clashed yesterday on a motion to expand the scope of the current hearing on a separate federal milk marketing order for New Jersey.

Lewis P. Dolan, attorney for the United Milk Producer's Association, termed as "improper and irrelevant" the motion for testimony on a comprehensive milk order to include New Jersey in the control now governing the New York metropolitan area.

THE ACTION, Dolan said, would delay a solution to the crisis facing New Jersey's 63 million dollar milk industry.

Complaints of the importation of cheap out-of-state milk led U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson to call the hearing. He had rejected previous proposals for a comprehensive price order and directed that the hearing take up only two questions:

1. Whether a separate federal order should be issued for the 13 northernmost New Jersey counties, or possibly fewer, or possibly including six nearby New York counties.

2. Whether federal controls should be put on milk from 22 New York counties. Further hearings will be held in New York state on that aspect.

DOLAN REPRESENTS New Jersey's largest milk producer group. His testimony was backed up by Gov. Robert B. Meyner's milk committee, the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association of Syracuse, the Tri-State Master Dairy Farmers Guild, and some North Jersey dealers.

But Frederick P. Lee, attorney for the powerful New York Dairymen's League and the Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency, spoke in favor of the motion.

Lee charged that Benson, in issuing the call for the hearing, disregarded his own regulation that "a separate order hearing is not in the public interest ..."

HEARING MASTER Osmund G. Hyde ruled he was unauthorized to act on the motion. He sent a copy by air mail to Benson for decision.

Later, the head of the Tri-State Guild wired Meyner asking that he and the governors of New York and Pennsylvania declare an emergency in the dairy industry.

The Rev. John Dorney of Balesville said his telegram was a "desperate plea for immediate aid." He urged that the governors adopt uniform prices until a Tri-State milk commission can be established.

The average price of milk now is $4.12 a hundredweight. The Guild seeks a $6 price for blended milk.

Physicist Warns More Atom Tests May Be Harmful

Metuchen, N. J., June 21 (AP)—A nuclear physicist has warned that the world's population may feel deadly effects of radiation if nations step up their testing of atomic weapons.

Ralph Lapp, who worked on the wartime a-bomb project, said last night that a progressive increase in such tests will release enough dangerous radiation by 1962 to give everyone in the world the "maximum permissible amount."

HE ADDED that the deadly effects would not be felt until the late 1970s. Radioactive particles will hang in the upper air until then, he said.

Lapp, of Washington, D. C., is no longer associated with the atomic energy program. He delivered his warning in a talk to the Middlesex County Medical Society.

He said the atomic energy commission has refused to give the public full facts and had let a year pass before releasing details of the fallout from the first Bikini atom tests.

THE RADIOACTIVE particles to which he referred are made up of radiostrontium, Lapp said, considered the most dangerous material released in a fallout. He said it can cause bone cancer if absorbed by the body in sufficient quantities.

Lapp told the medical society that staying under cover for several days during a period of fallout may not be enough. In many cases, he said, a year may pass before it will be safe to come outside, particularly in the open country.

HE CALLED ON the government to spend more for civil defense than at present. He said civil defense personnel must be fully informed.

The scientist based his warning on "the very conservative assumption" that the atomic powers will steadily accelerate their weapons tests until they are doubled by 1970.

Assuming such a progressive increase, he said that "by 1962 there will be enough radiostrontium committed to the stratosphere to produce a 100 per cent MPA (maximum permissible amount) in every person on the planet."

"Due to the hold-up of the invisible particles in the upper air," he said, "this radiostrontium would not show up in full amount in the human body until the late 1970's.

"However, by 1962 the die would have been cast irrevocably."

Lapp said his views "contrast sharply with the optimistic statements" of the AEC and the national academy of sciences.

Typhoid Problem

New York, June 21 (AP)—Three Bronx girls have typhoid fever, posing a health problem for more than 200 other persons. The girls—aged 11, 12 and 14—all attended a confirmation party for a girl friend last May 16. Just recently they were hospitalized for the communicable disease. The city health department said yesterday 15 epidemiologists were examining the party guests and caterers in an effort to determine whether the three picked up the disease at the affair or had transmitted it to others present.

Jail Probe Held Up

New York, June 21 (AP)—The state Commission of Correction has decided to hold in abeyance a probe of Wayne county jail in Lyons until a full report has been received on the escape of a prisoner there. The prisoner, a 17-year-old, escaped Sunday and was apprehended Tuesday. Thomas J. McHugh, state commissioner of the Department of correction and chairman of the state Commission of Correction, met yesterday with five other commission members.

NOTHING TO PLAY WITH—Resembling a giant-size version of a roll of caps for a toy gun, strip and roll held by masked researcher gives off a potentially much more explosive report. Strip is produced by the robot chemical analyzer, right, at Hanford plutonium plant, Richland, Wash. It automatically fills "dimples" with samples of waste from refining process. Strip passes under a radiation counter, which signals engineers when precious plutonium fuel appears in flow. Device reduces hazard incident to manual testing and may save $250,000 per year, according to General Electric engineers who operate the plant for the AEC.

HST Refuses Kiss

Oxford, England, June 21 (AP)—Harry Truman refused to kiss a baby today because he said it wasn't sanitary. The baby was thrust into the arms of the former U. S. President after he had addressed 90 American students studying at Oxford University as Rhodes scholars. "Kiss him, Mr. President," said someone in the group of students surrounding Truman. "Oh, no!" he replied. "It's not sanitary."

Eagles Defeat Ellenville, 8-6, for Second Twi Win

Kingston Eagles squared their City Baseball League record at 2-2, as George Kithcart and Tony Marable combined for an 8-6 decision over the Ellenville entry. Darkness halted the free swinging duel at the end of six innings.

Between them, the Eagle flingers allowed eight hits, struck out five and walked three. The Eagles scored at least a run in every inning.

EAGLES collected nine hits off a couple of Js—Mercedes and Caruso—and were sailing along on a 6-0 lead when Ellenville erupted for three runs in the fourth and another trio in the fifth.

The winners picked up their seventh run in the fifth on Tate's single, a sacrifice fly, wild pitch and George Kithcart's sacrifice fly. An error by Bernstein in right field led to the Eagles' insurance marker in the sixth.

ERRORS figured largely in most of the scoring in the loosely played game.

Tate and Kithcart slugged two hits apiece for the Eagles. Merceda banged a pair for Ellenville. Johnny Burris, S. Bernstein and Ed Knight rapped doubles.

Phillies Sign Ithaca Hurlers

Philadelphia, June 21 (AP)—Don Kern, and Bob Thwaites, both 20-year-old pitchers from Ithaca (NY) College, have signed contracts with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Both are being sent to the club's Schenectady farm team in the Eastern League.

Kern, from Cranford, N. J., is a 6 foot, 2 inch 200 pounder who pitched a no-hitter during his collegiate career. Thwaites, of Clark, N. J., a six-footer, hurled a two-hitter against the Quantico Marines during the 1956 college season.

They signed their contracts yesterday.

The baseball ghosts of the past will look on in solicitous solitude tonight as the Indianapolis Clowns and New York Black Yankees engage each other under the mazdas of Dietz Stadium.

Time was when two high powered Negro clubs would jampack the stadium. Or one great club against the Kingston Recreations. Tonight the visitors take pot luck at the turnstiles.

You recall the extra-inning duels between the pre-war Recreations and Oscar Charleston's Philadelphia Stars. You remember Roy Campanella and the Nashville Elite Giants and Monte Irvin and Leon Day of the Newark Eagles. And fabulous Billy (The Kid) Ostrom holding off the awesome power of Ted Strong and Willard Brown of the Kansas City Monarchs.

Those were the great Negro clubs of their day. You hope something nice might happen to Clowns and Yankees tonight. You just keep hoping.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

What the major leagues need these days is an official mathematician, available at a moment's notice to fly to the scene of Mickey Mantle's wondrous accomplishments. When you give the ink stained wretches of the baseball boxes the height of the spot where Mantle's drive carried and the distance from home plate, they are suddenly and thoroughly confused. The baseball Einstein could help those fellows. . . . Mantle belts tape jobs in almost every park. Joe Adcock, the many-thumbed Milwaukee first baseman, drives a ball into the centerfield bleachers at the Polo Grounds and over the left field stands at Ebbets Field. Are we privileged to be watching a breed of supermen in the majors today? Or do you wonder what the likes of Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx and Lou Gehrig would be doing to today's atomic jackrabbit that is called a baseball.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

The Twaalfskill Club course was never more beautiful, the greens more verdant or slick than for the Herdegen Memorial tournament. A tip of the hat to George Hughes and Homer Van Aken for their splendid efforts. Ditto for Bleeker Bradford, Shawangunk pro and Bud Stapleton, who annually have the Ellenville layout in top shape for the tournament. Herdegen finalists who think they can tear the flat and scenic Woodstock Country Club layout apart Saturday should remember this little statistic. In 200 rounds of Herdegen play on the village links, the average is 79.77 for qualifiers and finalists. . . . They will find No. 1 playing tougher off the long, new tee and a longer tee awaiting them on the rugged No. 4 hole. The par-4 No. 3 hole at Shawangunk ranks among the fine golf holes in the country. . . . Fred Allen had the last laugh on Woodstock cronies who predicted he wouldn't make the final rounds.

Frank McGuire, the North Carolina University basketball maestro, lectures at Delhi, N. Y., June 26 and then he'll be at Clair Bee's camp at Cornwall-on-Hudson, July 17-19. . . . Johnny Antonelli was sitting in the back seat of a car driving him from the Polo Grounds to his seasonal home on Long Island. "My arm is fine, I pitch 25 minutes of batting practice the day after I throw a game," he said. "Right over there," the guy driving said, "is where Billy Loes lives. Too bad. They tell he couldn't even drive a car without his arm hurting when Brooklyn sold him to Baltimore." "My arm feels real good," Antonelli persisted. "That Loes. It's sad. I thought he was through," the guy continued. "On second thought, you better turn that window down," Antonelli said. "It's blowing on my left shoulder. I don't want to take any chances."

Saugerties Drops Game at Nyack, 10-4

7-Run Rally In Fifth Upends Village Nine

Saugerties Dutchmen went with second line pitchers last night and suffered a 10-4 defeat at the hands of the New City nine in a New York-New Jersey League contest, last night at Nyack.

(The Dutchmen are scheduled to play the Kingston Colonials Saturday night at Dietz Stadium).

Two big errors and a two-run homer by Hank Pierson set up a seven-run rally for Nyack in the fifth inning.

DICK WINNIE started for Saugerties but was relieved by Jim Farrell after yielding six hits and six runs in 4 1/3 innings. Clark Mains mopped up. The Dutchmen were limited to seven hits by Dick Woods, who fanned eight.

Pierson hammered a homer and two singles for Nyack. Ed Clark rammed a double and homer for the Nyackers.

Hank Barber and Joe Benjamin rapped two hits, Barber poled a triple and Benjamin a double.

What Gives With Fred Haney?

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

What is it with Fred Haney? He takes over from Charlie Grimm, who resigned as Milwaukee manager under fire after losing 12 of 17 to tumble from first to fifth, and four days later the Braves are leading the National League again.

The Braves haven't lost since Haney, who never finished better than last in three other shots as a NL skipper, reluctantly took over in Brooklyn last Saturday night. They made it five in a row last night, completing a sweep of three from the plunging Pittsburgh Pirates 7-3 to move back into the top spot as last place Philadelphia junked Cincinnati's hold on the lead 3-2.

That caused yet another revision in the hectic NL standings, giving Milwaukee a 13-point edge over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who snapped a three-game losing streak with a 4-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards hold fourth, 2 points back of the Redlegs, who in turn are 2 points behind the Brooks.

The Pirates, with five straight defeats, are fifth, but still very much in contention only one game behind the Braves.

NEW YORK'S Giants reclaimed sixth place from Chicago, beating the Cubs 4-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees made it seven-in-a-row as Mickey Mantle jolted his 26th and 27th home runs in a 4-1 verdict over the Detroit Tigers. The Chicago White Sox held second, 5½ games behind, with a 12-8 decision over Baltimore. Cleveland ended a third place tie with Boston by topping the Red Sox 5-4 in 10 innings. Washington came from behind to beat Kansas City 5-4.

The Braves have been playing like most folks figured they could since Haney took charge. Question is, why? He's the same type of "nice guy" manager as was Grimm—and in his 15 years as a pilot, he's had only one pennant winner (Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League in 1952).

In the majors he was last in three tries with the Pirates, who released him after last season, and was no better than sixth in three years as field boss of the old St. Louis Browns in the AL.

HANEY, 58, hasn't juggled the Braves' lineup or junked Grimm's pitching order, but he's had results. Gene Conley, for instance, pitched his first complete game since last July 10 for his second victory last night while Danny O'Connell and Bobby Thomson each batted in a pair of runs as the Braves scored five in the fifth to beat Vern Law.

Curt Simmons, winning his third, choked off the homer-socking Redlegs on seven singles while the Phils, with just six hits, beat Art Fowler on Stan Lopata's 12th home run.

The Dodgers scored three in the third with Carl Furillo lining a two-run double to beat the Cards and Wilmer Mizell, third lefty to start against the Brooks this season and first to start against them in Ebbets Field since last August 26. Roger Craig won his sixth, with Clem Labine relieving in the ninth. Second baseman Charley Neal turned Stan Musial's hard bases-loaded smash into a force out in the ninth to end it.

HANK THOMPSON, sidelined a week after a beaning at St. Louis, swatted his first 1956 home run with two on to beat the Cubs and Don Kaiser while Al Worthington won his third.

Mantle, batting righthanded for both his shots off southpaw Billy Hoeft, sent the two homers on 400-foot-plus rides to go 18 games up on Babe Ruth's 60-homer pace of 1927. Andy Carey smacked a two-run homer in the sixth for the deciding runs after Hoeft had retired the first 15 men he faced. Johnny Kucks won his ninth with Whitey Ford, sidelined with a wrenched back, coming back to pitch the last 1⅓ innings.

AL ROSEN'S single drove in the big run for the Indians to beat reliefer Tom Hurd. Gene Woodling had tied it with a solo homer in the eighth. Jackie Jensen homered with one on in the first off Tribe lefty Herb Score, who fanned 10 in his six innings. Don Mossi won it in relief.

Chicago used five pitchers and the Orioles seven—two short of the AL's two-team record—and the White Sox iced it with four runs in the sixth. Chicago had 15 hits, Baltimore 14.

Washington put together an error, two walks and a sacrifice fly in the ninth to beat the A's who fell into the cellar with their 19th defeat in 25 home games this season.

Campanella Admits Concern Over Worst Batting Slump

Brooklyn, June 20 (AP)—A troubled Roy Campanella admitted today he was deeply concerned over "the worst batting slump of my career," but brushed off any thoughts that he might be through as a top flight performer or that age is rapidly rushing up on him.

At the same time, the star Brooklyn catcher declared he had switched to dozens of bats other than his own and had tried countless different stances at the plate without much success.

"I wouldn't be telling the truth if I said I wasn't worried," the three-time most valuable player said frankly. "As one of the big men on the club I'm expected to drive in those runs and hit my share of the long ones. I haven't been doing either of those things and I feel like I've been letting the boys down. Luckily, the club has been winning so my failure to come through hasn't hurt as much as it could have."

CAMPANELLA said his main trouble has been overswinging. he has promised himself on many occasions he would swing easy, just meeting the ball. But when the pitch comes in, he forgets his vow and tries to overpower the ball. He has gotten to the point where he's pressing, thereby burying himself deeper in the slump.

"Everybody has been trying to help me, giving me all kinds of advice," Roy said. "I appreciate it but it's like spanking your son for doing something wrong. He won't stop doing it until he realizes himself that it is wrong."

After enjoying a banner year in 1955 when he batted .318, slammed 32 home runs and drove in 107 runs to earn the National League's MVP title for the third time, Campy went into a batting decline practically from the start of this season. His current batting average is a microscopic .207. He has hit only six home runs in 47 games with 25 RBis. When he hit his last homer, on June 9, he had gone over a month without hitting a four-bagger. At one stretch he had played 19 consecutive games without driving in a run.

Mirons Blank Maddens

Miron Lumber backed Dick Bradley's 4-hit pitching with four double plays to rout Madden's TV, 18-0, in a City Softball League contest yesterday.

Perry's played with eight men for more than half the game but still had enough to down Chez Emile, 4-2, on Joe Venuti's 5-hitter.

Tino Reynaud unfurled a five-hitter for Prospect Dairy in a 4-2 decision over Subway Grill.

American Legion thumped Hercules, 17-6, and Rapp's Express down Krovans, 9 to 6.

Johnny May powered a home run for the Lumberjacks who collected 11 hits off Dick Knight. Fred Orr powered a homer for Prospect Dairy.

Petro's pinch hit homer accounted for one of the Chez Emile safeties off Venuti.

ED GIL'S homer and three singles in a "4 for 4" performance led the Legion's 14-hit assault on Jim Massuccio and Tom Carpino. The losers collected 12 off Tom Rizzia and Don Wolf.

Angelo Corrado stroked three singles for the winners. Frank Avery rapped a single and homer for Hercules. Jack Luxton and Jerry Kaplan hit triples and Joe Fautz slammed a double.

RAPP'S EXPRESS had two four-run innings to whip Krovan's, 9 to 6, in a battle of 12-hitters between Mort Gazlay and Nick Savino.

Charlie Marable, Johnny Armstrong and Jim Lawson belted homers for Rapp's and Slutz hit for the circuit for Krovans.

Egyptian Princess First at Westbury

Westbury, June 21 (AP)—Egyptian Princess, well rated Hambletonian eligible from the Clearview Stables of Winthrop, Me., broke stride shortly after the start but quickly recovered and easily won the $15,000 Old Country Trot at Roosevelt Raceway last night.

The 3-year-old daughter of Victory Song, driven by veteran Earle Avery, trotted the mile in 2:05 3/5 and finished two lengths in front of Gratis Hanover. In their previous meeting, Gratis Hanover beat the Clearview filly.

Jimmy Lynbrook was third in the field of six. Two of the other starters, Lullwater Victory and Nora Frost, also are Hambletonian eligibles.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

P. T. Barnum said there's one born every minute and piscatorialy speaking, he was right. Suckers are one of the most abundant fishes in America.

Suckers get their name because they have protruding mouths and feed by sucking in ooze, which contains insect larvae and other material, from the bottom.

Occasionally a group of suckers feeding in a stream will be followed by other fish such as trout and common shiners which snap up morsels of food dislodged by the rock turning activities of suckers.

MOST SUCKERS, and there are almost a hundred species, are limited to North America, but a few are found in China and Siberia. The best known species are the common sucker and the hogsucker which may be found in streams and to a slighter extent in lakes throughout the year.

Other species like the chub suckers and some of the redhorse suckers are very much at home in lakes and leave them only to spawn if at all. The carp suckers, quillbacks, buffalo-fish, and blue sucker are species which are important commercially.

Others like the mountain sucker and the rustyside sucker are limited to mountain streams and are adapted for life in swift waters.

THE LARGER species are taken commercially in the Mississippi river system, Great Lakes, and St. Lawrence river, and more than 4,000,000 pounds are sold annually, and at least as much more is caught by anglers and used for food.

Commercially they are taken in trap nets and gill nets as well as by dipping and spearing during their migrations. Anglers usually use worms, dough balls, and in rare instances artifical lures.

Most species are fairly small, seldom exceeding 18 inches. Some large kinds, such as the buffalo-fish and some of the larger redhorses, regularly reach a length of more than two feet and some reach three feet.

Seventh Win For Giants in Ulster Loop

League Standings

Giants	7	1

John Hetsco sparkled with a 2-hitter and fanned 10 as the Giants drubbed the Yankees, 14-2, and threatened to make a runaway of the Town of Ulster Little League.

The victory sent the Giants three full games ahead of the second place Indians.

JOHN WOJCIO permitted only six Giant hits but eight walks and a flock of miscues made it easy for the winners, who enjoyed five and six-run innings.

No player on either side got more than one hit. The only extra basers doubles by Donald Funcheon, Hetsco and Dwain Caunitz.

Johnnies Spoil League Debut Of Genovese

(By the Associated Press)

The current Eastern League series between the last- place Johnstown Johnnies and the front-running Allentown Redbirds, the first series under the Johnnies new manager, Chick Genovese, will be long remembered by both teams.

The Johnnies humbled the visiting Redbirds with a split in the Tuesday night double header that marked Genovese's debut. That was bad enough for Allentown. But the Johnnies did the same thing last night, crushing the league leaders 20-5 in the nightcap. Allentown edged the Johnnies 3-2 in the tightly-pitched opener.

And to top things off the rival managers, Genovese and Roland Le Blanc, got involved in an argument and wrestling match during the second game. Both were ejected. Le Blanc also was thumbed in the first game.

IN OTHER games last night, the Williamsport Grays edged the visiting Reading Indians 6-5 as Nick Koback drove in the winning run with a ninth-inning single; the host Schenectady Blue Jays won 6-3 as righthander Henry Mason shackled the Syracuse Chiefs with five hits, and the visiting Binghamton Triplets split a twinbill with the Albany Senators, winning 4-2 and losing 3-1.

The splits with the cellar dwellers have proved costly to Allentown. It lost a half game each night as second-place Schenectady won single games. The Blue Jays now trail by only a half-game.

Giants overpowered the Braves, 8 to 5, in the East Kingston-Glasco Little League as James Davide pitched a steady six-hitter.

In winning the Giants squared their season's mark at 3-3 to take over second place by a half game.

FRANK Serravalli started for the Braves but was replaced by Dom Berardi in the first inning. The latter pitched effectively but was given shoddy support.

Davide fanned 11 and walked four and belted two doubles and a single in his own behalf. Berardi struck out 10 in his relief role and didn't walk a batter. He also doubled with the bases loaded in the third.

JOSEPH CLAUSI also starred at the bat with three doubles for the Giants. Joseph Palumbo and Richard Marrelli each singled and doubled.

Frank Gallo and Fred Pritchitt led the Braves with a single and double each.

Boyce KOs Hilltop

It was the classy hurler's second straight impressive victory since his belated debut in the softball loop.

Boyce, who fanned 11 in his debut, added nine more victims for a total of 20 in two games, unusual in these parts.

Orlando Felipe led the 10-hit assault on Johnny Woods with a trio of singles. Bill Gavis hit a single and double and J. McCardle two singletons. Bud Smith with a double and single and Jim Woods with two singles were the Wimpy batting stars.

Satterfield Upset Winner Over Summerlin

Chicago, June 21 (AP)—A boxing "Dud" who keeps exploding, Chicago's Bob Satterfield today drew a bead on a heavyweight match with equally unpredictable Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson.

Satterfield, a 3-1 underdog, last night pounded an end to young Johnny Summerlin's 12-bout winning streak with a unanimous 10-round decision in a nationally televised scrap at Chicago Stadium.

The 32-year-old Satterfield, outweighed by 11 pounds, nearly ouweighed by 11 pounds, nearly knocked Summerlin out of the ring in the third round with ponderous rights and then went on to win by a substantial margin.

A SATTERFIELD - Jackson meeting this fall wouldn't cut any ice in the heavyweight title elimination picture because Floyd Patterson already has brushed aside Jackson and Satterfield (41-21-4) doesn't seem to be going any place particularly.

The defeat was Summerlin's fifth in 37 pro starts and knocked out his chance for a match with Pittsburgh's Bob Baker in the elimination series for Rocky Marciano's vacated heavyweight crown.

Judge John Bray thought Chicago Bob was only 92-91, but Referee Bernie Weissman called it for Satterfield, 98-89, and Judge Ed Hinz, 96-89.

Coming to a log in the road, Moore hobbled out on his good leg and started struggling with the log. The car suddenly lurched forward and broke his good leg.

Local Man Injured In Bike-Car Mishap

A Kingston man was injured slightly in a bicycle-car collision at 4:40 p. m. Wednesday on Hurley avenue.

Police reported that William Davis Hawk, Jr., of Grove street, was operating a 1955 station wagon, owned by William Rylance and Sons, Inc., of 45 Hurley avenue, in a northwest direction on Hurley avenue.

The report said Mr. Hawk was stopping to park in front of 45 Hurley avenue and opened the left door when Franz Schneider, 47, of 36 Howland avenue, driving a bicycle northwest on Hurley avenue, was in collision with the door, struck to the pavement and suffered a laceration of the right middle finger and abrasions of the right leg. He was treated at Kingston Hospital and released, the report said.

Sander Belts

Portable sander belts become clogged quickly with pitch when you work on pine, fir and other resinous woods. Soaking the belt in gasoline for five or ten minutes removes the pitch from the abrasive grit and the belt dries quickly when hung up, says the American Builder.

Miss Whalen Honored

Retiring Teacher Feted at Parties

Miss Anne Whalen, retiring faculty member of School 3, has enjoyed a round of parties honoring her for long years of service.

ON SATURDAY the staff of the school honored her with a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Russell. On Tuesday she was honored by the school P-TA with a party at the school. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Edward Ellsworth, Mrs. Lester Green, Mrs. George Norton, Mrs. Carl Cline and Mrs. Charles Williams.

Miss Whalen was presented by Mrs. Green with a gift from the organization. Mrs. Green expressed the feeling of the association in wishing her many years of happiness in her retirement.

Miss Whalen also received numerous gifts from friends and former pupils.

On Wednesday Miss Whalen's third grade surprised her with another party.

Mrs. Catherine van Ryn, who is leaving School 3 to teach in Babylon, L. I., next year, was also honored with gifts and parties from the school staff, P-TA and her pupils.

At the school assembly Wednesday morning Mrs. Amos Newcombe directed a program of instrumental music by the school orchestra.

AT THIS CLOSING assembly each member of the sixth grade was presented with a picture of the graduating class by Mrs. Frank Wollner as a gift from the P-TA.

The school patrol was given a turkey dinner by the P-TA last week. Members of the patrol are Warren Stewart, captain; Roland Rion, lieutenant; Nancy Williams, Ruth Wiltsie, Glenda Fisher, Karen Brown, Carol Augustine, Karen Mellin, Frank Purcell, Clarence Redd, Robert Broadford and Judson Hornbeck.

Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Milton Wiltsie, Mrs. George Norton and Mrs. Lowell Popp served the dinner. Miss Mary Polhemus, principal, Eugene Loughlin, patrol adviser, and Edwin Schultz, janitor, were guests.

School Gridder Killed

Troy, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—A star scholastic football player was killed today and two companions were injured, one critically, when their automobile crashed into a field on a rural road near here. The victim, David Haggerty, 17, was dead on arrival at Samaritan Hospital. John Krumanocher, 18, is in critical condition and Ward Harvey, 17, is in fair condition. All are from Troy. State police said the boys were traveling west when the car apparently struck a ditch, turned over several times and ended up in a field 75 feet from the road. Haggerty, a member of the 1955 Lansingburg High School football team, was elected to an all-Troy scholastic team. He also participated in varsity track.

Search Pressed For Bank Gunman

Troy, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Authorities pressed the search today for a gunman who held up the People's Branch of the Manufacturers National Bank of Troy and took $2,666 yesterday.

Two young men who were being held for investigation were released last night. Police said they were not implicated in the crime.

The gunman stuck a revolver in the face of a woman teller at the north Troy branch bank a few minutes after opening and ordered her to give him all the money "and don't say anything."

The teller, Miss Mae Murley, 45, said the man at first asked her for some penny wrappers, then pointed the gun at her. The gunman scooped the money into a briefcase he was carrying and fled.

The man was described as about 23, five feet, eight inches tall and weighing about 140 pounds. He was wearing a light tan jacket, navy blue trousers and black shoes.

Advance Clown Heralds Hunts' Circus for Monday

Like a breath of spring which sometimes fools the proverbial groundhog, Rayford The Clown blew into Kingston Thursday as a harbinger of the appearance of Hunt Bros. Circus at Dietz Stadium on Monday, June 25, for afternoon and evening performances.

And fool people he did—as the curious watched and wondered at the comic figure striding along the streets of the city with the aurora of the circus definitely surrounding him.

Rayford, (his real name is Ray Bickford, a retired civil engineer of Bernardston, Mass.) was sent to provide the local people with an animated advertisement of the Boy Scout Camp sponsored Hunt Bros. Circus coming next Monday.

Clown Bickford was employed by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works for almost 30 years—until ill health forced his retirement. He had "clowned" with circuses for years as a hobby, and upon his recovery from his illness, he became a "real circus clown," traveling as an advance agent for the dean of American circusmen, Charles T. Hunt.

H. P. Eighmey of 94 Highland avenue, chairman of the committee promoting the circus for the Boy Scout camp today said tickets must be purchased in advance of show day in order for the Scouts to receive a percentage. They are on sale now at the Shapiro paint store, North Front street; O'Reilly's stationery store, John street; the Scout office at 260 Fair street and at Yallum's shoe store, Broadway and Strand.

Chest Directors Tour Boys' Club; Told of Program

Members of the board of directors of the Kingston Area Community Chest toured the Kingston Boys Club building, 139 Greenkill avenue, following the regular monthly board meeting Wednesday night.

Warren F. Smith, president, and Robert Curry, executive director of the Boys Club, a Chest agency, welcomed the board members and outlined the agency's program. A total of 150 different boys make use of the facilities in an average week, Mr. Curry estimated. There are 200 boys on the membership register.

The club rooms, small but recently repainted and cleaned, include a general game room, woodworking shop, ping pong room, library, and other varied purpose rooms.

In the summer, Mr. Curry explained, the boys engage in supervised sports outdoors whenever possible. Four teams have been organized in one baseball league, he said, and an older boys' team is in process of organization. The club is also planning an all-star team for competition with other groups.

The Community Chest business meeting was held earlier in the evening at the YWCA building on Clinton avenue, with President N. Jansen Fowler presiding. Paul F. Steinkuller, general campaign chairman, reviewed tentative plans for the drive to be held in October. Louis H. Schafer, general secretary of the YMCA, reported for the planning committee. Routine business was transacted.

Washington, July 21 (AP)—The U. S. The court divided 4-3. Flaxer, of New York, was president of the United Public Workers, a union made up of employes of federal, state and local governments. The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee demanded that Flaxer produce Oct. 5, 1951 membership lists divided between those employed by the federal government and other governmental units. He was charged with contempt when he refused.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Area School Building Cited by Committee

Saugerties, June 21—Almost all other communities in New York state have built a new school or an addition to a school within the last 15 years except the Saugerties Central School District, according to Miss A. Frances Larned, chairman of the publicity committee of the school building program.

One has only to consider the Hudson Valley area to realize that this is true, she said. For example, neighboring communities of Catskill, Kingston, Boiceville, Cairo, Wallkill, Poughkeepsie, Wappingers Falls, Highland, New Paltz and Ellenville, all have new schools or additions, Miss Larned said.

In fact, one can not go north, south, east or west from Saugerties without finding recent school construction.

An existing situation such as this in Saugerties can be remedied by a positive vote by the taxpayers of the district on the $3,475,000 school bond issue, she said.

Hartwick Professor To Be Guest Preacher

Saugerties, June 21 — Dr. H. Keiter, professor of Religion and Religious Education at Hartwick College, Oneonta, will be the guest preacher at the regular 11 a. m. worship service at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp Sunday. The Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith, pastor of the church has been on vacation during the month of June.

Nelson G. Burhans, newly appointed field secretary and public relations representative for the national offices of Tau Epsilon Fraternity, has been the guest preacher for the past two Sundays and will again occupy the West Camp pulpit on July 1.

In accordance with action taken by the council of the church, summer services beginning with July 1 will start at 10 a. m.

The last session of Sunday school will be held Sunday at 9:30 a. m. prior to the summer recess. The annual Sunday school picnic will be held Saturday, June 30, at Trnka's Picnic Grove, Asbury. A hay wagon will be available for those requiring transportation.

Cub Scout Pack 32 Lists Advancements

Saugerties, June 21 — The acknowledgement of advancements highlighted the regular monthly meeting of Cub Pack 32, Atonement Lutheran Church held recently at Seamon's Park, Saugerties.

The theme of the outdoor meeting was "Hobo Life."

Advancement badges were presented as follows: Lion Badge, Edward Strosahl and Martin Launer; Bear Badge, Barry Luther.

The June meeting is scheduled for Thursday, June 28 at 6 p. m. and will be held at Seamon's Park where a picnic supper will be served.

Fish and Game Club To Hear Committees

Saugerties, June 21—Fishing conditions in the Saugerties area will be discussed at the regular monthly meeting of Saugerties Fish and Game Club to be held at 8 p. m. in the R. A. Synder Fire Company rooms of Saugerties municipal building.

Following the business meeting two outstanding sound-color films will be shown and refreshments served.

Reports of the fish, pheasant, rabbitt and posting committees will be heard and new members proposed.

Case of 7 Teenagers Put Over to June 28

The case of seven teenagers who were arrested Sunday night on disorderly conduct charges was adjourned until Thursday, June 28 when the district attorney's office filed new information in City Court today.

Arrested when they allegedly refused to move from the Broadway underpass area on order of policemen were:

William Hofbauer, 16, of 51 Summer street.

Roy Spence, 16, of 180 Henry street.

Joseph Guinta, 17, of 77 West Pierpont street.

William O'Connor, 18, of 71 Brewster street and Robert Morris, 17, of Hasbrouck avenue.

They all pleaded innocent before City Judge Raymond J. Mino on Tuesday. Attorney Charles J. Soccoman appeared for the group and Attorney Joseph Toraca represented the district attorney's office in court today.

Rifton Vols Send Group to Esopus Area Blood Bank

A group of eight members of Rifton Fire Company donated blood to the Town of Esopus Blood Bank sponsored by the Lions Club this week, according to Blood Bank Chairman Louis A. Goldberg.

This has been the third time that the Rifton firemen have formed a group to give blood, he said.

Mr. Goldberg announced that nearly 100 pints of blood have been given out since the blood bank was established in December. At the present time there is a balance of 22 pints which is a very low reserve according to Mr. Goldberg.

In a general appeal to all residents of the town of Esopus, Mr. Goldberg urges all who can, to donate to the bank and replenish the supply.

He emphasized that all residents of the township are eligible to receive blood from the bank at no charge. The only requirement is that they are a resident of the township.
